Military Operations Resume In Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A large military operation began today with the discovery of a battalion of Viet Cong in an area 32 miles southwest of Saigon.

Vietnamese troops were rushed into the area in early afternoon. No detailed reports were available from the scene.

Military spokesmen also reported that fighter-bombers attacked and sank a large, apparently metal-hulled Viet Cong vessel in a cove in Vung Ro Bay about 235 miles northeast of Saigon.

Heavy fire from the Communist vessel drove off a Vietnamese navy junk and observation planes before the assault by air force planes.

The well-camouflaged ship was spotted by an American helicopter pilot, Lt. J. S. Bowers of Lyndonville, Vt. A junk sent to the bay drew heavy fire as did an observation plane flown by Lt. Cmdr. Harvey P. Rodgers of Smithtown, N.Y.

"Everything that went near the place received heavy fire," said Rodgers. He said the area is a well-known Viet Cong region.

Military spokesmen in Saigon reported heavy casualties among American and Vietnamese military forces during the Feb. 7-13 period.

They listed 35 Americans killed in action, 196 wounded and one missing. Most of those casualties were in Viet Cong terrorist bombings of service-men's billets.

The attack Feb. 10 on an enlisted men's hotel at Qui Nhon resulted in 21 deaths and injuries to 20 other Americans. Eight Americans were killed and more than 100 wounded at Pleiku Feb. 7 in a Viet Cong mortar attack.

Vietnamese losses for the week were 290 killed, 655 wounded and 610 missing. A high percentage of these losses were suffered in a battle in Binh Dinh Province Feb. 7 and 8. The casualty figures are still changing as more bodies are found and other soldiers fail to return to duty.

Viet Cong losses of 795 killed and 105 captured were claimed. Chief of State Phan Khanh Suu returned to Saigon this afternoon from Poulo Condore, an island prison off the southern tip of South Viet Nam. There he ordered the release of more than 120 political prisoners, including 17 who had been under death sentence.

A military firing squad executed a Viet Cong section leader accused of stirring up a violent antigovernment demonstration Monday in the central Vietnamese town of Thang Binh.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, military governor of the area, said the Communist terrorist was behind an attempt by about 2,000 demonstrators to force their way into district headquarters at Thang Binh.

Troops opened fire on the mob, killing 13 persons and wounding three. Several others were arrested.

Thi said the execution was a warning to the Viet Cong and their sympathizers against further antigovernment demonstrations.

Soviet Talks Of Military Might Again

Sokolovsky Boasts Of Nuclear Power At Red Army Fete

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is armed with intercontinental and global rockets whose nuclear warheads are equal to 100 million tons of TNT, Marshal Vasily Sokolovsky said today.

He also claimed Soviet supersonic planes are equipped with long-range rockets carrying nuclear warheads.

Sokolovsky spoke at a news conference held in connection with the 47th anniversary of the

President Confers With Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson had a surprise conference today with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, seeking Eisenhower's advice on Viet Nam policy.

Red Army. He was chief of the general staff for the army and air force from 1955 to 1960 and is now retired to a Defense Ministry inspector's post.

The Red Army anniversary is celebrated on Feb. 23.

"We have more than enough nuclear means to rout any aggressor," Sokolovsky said.

He said strategic rocket troops now form the backbone of the Soviet armed forces.

The effectiveness of the Soviet air force, he continued, has been sharply increased by supersonic planes equipped with nuclear-tipped, long-range rockets.

He said the Soviet navy is now built around atomic submarines of virtually unlimited range that are equipped with powerful missiles.

New Soviet anti-aircraft defenses are capable of reaching targets flying at any speeds at any altitudes, he declared.

Soviet ground forces are equipped with tactical nuclear weapons and tactical rockets, he said.

The Soviets before the signing of the nuclear test-ban treaty tested a nuclear weapon of 58 megatons — equivalent to 58 million tons of TNT — and former Soviet Premier Khrushchev spoke a number of times about a 100-megaton bomb.

U.S. military experts at the time said warheads of such size would be inefficient, that the increase in their destructive power would not be sufficient to justify building them.

Indonesians Will Retain U.S. Center

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The American cultural center and library in Jakarta will be placed under Indonesian government supervision, the official Anatara news agency said today.

The center was seized Monday by the semi-official National Front after a Communist-led demonstration protesting U.S. aerial strikes in North Viet Nam.

The agency said the decision to supervise the cultural center was announced by the third deputy premier, Chaerul Saleh, after a morning conference with President Sukarno.

The U.S. Embassy was not permitted to take any furniture or books from the center.

Rookie Cop Hero In Cloak-Dagger Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Raymond Wood, 31-year-old Negro who 10 months ago was just a rookie cop, plunged coolly into a cloak-and-dagger role to unmask a quartet allegedly bent on blowing up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and the Liberty Bell.

Three American Negroes, described as pro-Castro and pro-Red Chinese racial fanatics, and a striking Canadian blonde, were seized Tuesday in a lightning roundup by police and the FBI.

WOOD WAS hustled to a police station along with one of the alleged plotters as he was helping transfer 20 sticks of dynamite from a lot to an auto in a quiet residential section of the Bronx. Alerted by Wood, police had blanketed the area.

The 6-foot-1 inch, 201-pound Wood, who is single, for three months had infiltrated a Negro extremist organization known as the Black Liberation Front at a daily risk of his life.

Wood said of his achievement only: "I wanted to do my best." He murmured "thank you" when Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy, at a news conference, handed Wood an immediate promotion — the gold shield of a detective.

"You certainly deserve it," said Murphy.

An outstanding high school football player at Chester, S.C., Wood served four years in the U.S. Air Force in Germany with an investigative unit. He attended Fordham University for six months. Before that he had been a cost accountant.

A patrolman for seven months, Wood undertook his dangerous mission when he became undercover agent for the police Bureau of Special Services.

HE MADE HIS initial contact in a bar last December. From then on, it was a cat-and-mouse game as he attended meetings, walked picket lines until he was recognized as one of "them," and listened stolidly as he was told about the dynamite plots.

Those arrested were Robert S. Collier, 28, Boston-born, married with one child; Walter A. Bowe, 32, Philadelphia-born, married with one child; Khaleel S. Sayyed, 22, Brooklyn-born and single; and Michelle Duclos, 28, of Montreal, television commentator and member of a political party that advocates separation of French-speaking Quebec citizens from the rest of Canada.

Collier, who received an other-than-honorable discharge from military service after slashing a man during a fight in England in 1956, was said originally to have broached plans for three-man teams to destroy U. S. installations.

ON JAN. 19, Commissioner Murphy said, it was Bowe who espoused the idea of blowing up the Statue of Liberty, which he called "the damn old bitch." After visiting the statue in

New York harbor, Bowe bought a souvenir replica of it and was quoted as saying, "This is so easy we should split up and knock out the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia."

Said Murphy: "They also had a discussion concerning a simultaneous destruction of the Washington Monument, the Liberty Bell and the Statue of Liberty," adding: "We know they have made contacts in other cities. We have no idea how many people might be involved."

On Monday, Murphy said,

Canadian royal police tipped that Miss Duclos had driven across the Canadian border in a car containing the dynamite and blasting caps. A police radio car took up the trail on the U.S. side and followed her to a parking lot on West 239th St. in the Riverdale section of the Bronx, an area of luxury apartments and private homes.

About 3:15 a.m., Murphy said, Wood met Miss Duclos at a West 120th St. rendezvous. About 8 a.m., Wood and Collier drove to the lot and started to transfer the dynamite and caps when police closed in.

"That is the end of it," Murphy said.

BOWE WAS picked up by FBI agents at his home on East 10th St., Manhattan. City detectives seized Sayyed in his father's Brooklyn delicatessen, and Miss Duclos was picked up as she left a West 81st Street building in Manhattan.

Wood was always in danger, a police official said, but never more so than when he was taken to Quebec with the plotters to buy dynamite there.

"He never even got a chance to tell us he was leaving the country," this official said. "We didn't know where he was. He couldn't risk contacting us. If he

Nabbed In Wellsville 3 Suspects Held In 7 Burglaries

Three Steubenville men were apprehended early today shortly after allegedly burglarizing three Wellsville service stations.

East Liverpool authorities have linked the trio to entries earlier Tuesday night and this morning at four East Liverpool stations, but the men have denied any knowledge of the local entries.

THE SUSPECTS, George Brown, 21, and Chalmers Grant, 18, and Howard Grant, 24, are to be arraigned today before County Judge James MacDonald at Lisbon on charges of burglary in the night season.

Police Chief John Hephner of Wellsville said the men were picked up at 12:45 a. m. at 11th and Main Sts. by Patrolman Denton Kevan.

They were driving a pickup truck. Police received a call at 12:33 that someone was breaking into the Gitschier Sunoco Station at 6th and Main Sts. Neighbors had heard the noise and provided police with a description of the truck.

They had left by the time Kevan arrived but he caught up with them in the cruiser as they reached 11th St.

HOWARD GRANT started to run after getting out of the truck, but halted when Kevan warned him he would shoot. Grant told Hephner this morning "That man sounded like he meant it."

The first burglary was at the upper end of town in a Sohio Station at 3rd and Lisbon Sts. operated by Virgil Cornbaugh of Wellsville. Entry was gained by breaking out a side window. The

Council Balks At Financing Amato Fight Group At Wellsville To Bypass Solicitor In Hiring Counsel

Adding further to the growing incidents in the Charles F. Amato police case in Wellsville, City Council Tuesday night adopted a resolution declaring it will not authorize payment of any further funds for court actions and also adopted a motion to obtain outside legal advice on the case, aside from that offered by the solicitor.

Amato won a declaratory judgment against the city in January and was directed by the Common Pleas Court Judge Joel F. Sharp to be named a regular patrolman on the force.

His suit was against Mayor William Daugherty and Safety Service Director Fred Baldasare, the city administration, and members of the Civil Service Commission. The legal actions in the case and related incidents go back almost two years.

Council at its last meeting ordered a resolution to instruct Solicitor William Bush to take no further action in the case. At that time, Bush informed Council the resolution could be adopted, but it would not be binding on him as he also served as the legal adviser for

Near Pope's Quarters Wall At Vatican Ripped By Blast

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A pound of dynamite exploded early today against a wooden door in the Vatican wall only 100 yards from the apartment where Pope Paul VI was sleeping.

Police sought to determine whether the explosion was linked with Communist protests against the banning of the controversial play "The Deputy."

Vatican sources said the blast undoubtedly weakened the Pope. It destroyed part of the door in the wall, caused damage in the Swiss Guard barracks just inside the wall and shattered windows within a hundred-yard radius.

A night watchman, Vittorio Rivi, told police he saw two men approach the gate, then hurry away in a high-powered car just before the explosion. He said the men were short, youthful in appearance and well dressed. He said one was bearded.

Police said the bomb was a crude device consisting of a pound of dynamite packed into a carton. It was wedged against a corner of the seldom-opened Porta Angelica — Angelic Door. The door is alongside the gate of Sant'Anna, the only entry into the walled Vatican City from the Via de Porta Angelica, which runs from the southeastern corner of Vatican City to the great colonnades around St. Peter's Square.

It was the first bombing at the 108-acre Vatican City-state since 1962, when two fire bombs were found in St. Peter's Basilica three weeks before the first session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Race Track's Taxing Value Spared Boost Rate Continued But One Commissioner Urges Sharp Hike

Hancock County Court voted 2-1 Tuesday against increasing the assessment on real estate at Waterford Race Track for 1965.

James Finley of Weirton, court president, and Commissioner William C. Graham of Chester voted to continue the present rate, but Commissioner Jack Evans of New Cumberland opposed the motion as "unjust to other taxpayers of the county."

Yesterday was the last day for the commissioners to set as a Board of Equalization and Review on property assessments for 1965.

Evans, who has been campaigning for rigid economy in government ever since coming into court last year, declared the assessment on Waterford Race Track should have been raised from 40 to 45 per cent of the appraisal figure, "just as other properties in the county were increased on a uniform basis."

Evans declared the track was appraised by Cole, Laver, & Trumbull Appraisal Co. of Dayton in 1961 at $1,900,000 and he argued that the figure allowed for a standard depreciation and depletion allowance to extend over five years.

Graham's motion was to continue the track's assessment of $670,000 for another year.

"That's absolutely unfair," (Turn to TRACK, Page 18)

Council O.K. Considered Health Board May Ask Consolidation Clearance

The Board of Health may decide at its meeting Thursday night whether to ask City Council to approve a proposed consolidation of health services involving East Liverpool, Wellsville and the county General Health District.

The proposed consolidation was aired at a meeting of representatives of the Health Board and Council with County Health Board officials Tuesday night at Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office.

ATTENDING the session were Dr. J. Keith Rugh, chairman, Dr. C. M. Mayberry, Mrs. Ila Finney Johnston and Paul Zehnder, members, and Howard Claypool, clerk, of the city Health Board; Council President George Willshaw, Councilmen Norman Bucher and Donald Hancock, Mayor Hall, Atty. Howard Cole, chairman of the County Health Board, Dr. Merle Singer, county health commissioner, and Eugene Cover, chief plumbing inspector in the county.

Dr. Rugh and Dr. Mayberry both endorsed the proposal with the chairman declaring the Health Board will take action "pro or con" if a quorum is present tomorrow night.

Mrs. Johnston did not express an opinion; Zehnder had to leave before the conclusion of the meeting, and the fifth member, C. Frank Dales, was absent.

"UNLESS we consolidate, the state will take over," Dr. Rugh declared, pointing out the state

Exchange Of Visits Shelved By Viet Nam

MOSCOW (AP) — The Viet Nam flareup has put on ice prospects for visits by President Johnson to the Soviet Union and Soviet leaders to the United States.

Just two weeks ago, Johnson said he hoped the visits would take place this year. Now consideration of them has been suspended according to Soviet and U.S. sources.

They say the U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam and the hostile Soviet reaction destroyed the atmosphere necessary for an exchange of visits.

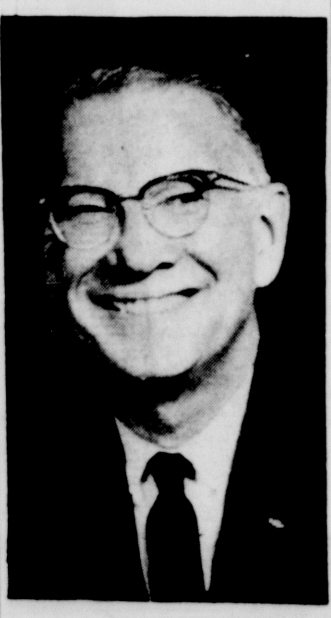

Funeral Is Pending Dr. R. J. Calcott, Dentist For 37 Years, Is Claimed

Dr. Reid J. Calcott, 630 Louisiana Ave., Chester, a practicing dentist in East Liverpool for 37 years, died at 7:10 a. m. today at his home, following an illness of several months. He was 59.

He was one of the founders of the American Equilibration Society and was membership chairman of the American Prosthodontic Society.

Dr. Calcott was born in East Liverpool Jan. 31, 1906, to Mrs. Florence Caldwell Calcott and the late Dr. Reid James Calcott. He was married June 1, 1935, to the former Alice Moorman.

He was graduated from the School of Dentistry at the University of Pittsburgh in 1927 and did post-graduate work at New York University in 1928-29 and

Spacecraft To Head For Moon Shots

Camera-Carrying Vehicle Will Begin Its 65-Hour Flight

BULLETIN
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Spacecraft Ranger 8 was rocketed toward the moon today to snap 4,000 photos of the dusty, crater-pocked lunar surface and continue the exploration started by Ranger 7.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Ranger 8 spacecraft was scheduled for launching today on a quarter-million-mile trip to the moon to photograph a large flat plain called the Sea of Tranquility.

An Atlas-Agena rocket is to blast skyward between 12:05 and 2:03 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, to start the camera-carrying craft on its planned 65-hour flight.

The 809-pound payload is to execute several intricate maneuvers and crash-land on the moon Saturday morning.

In the final 13 minutes and 40 seconds, Ranger 8's six cameras are to flash to earth more than 4,000 pictures at altitudes ranging from 1,180 miles down to about half a mile.

The Sea of Tranquility is nearer to the moon's shadow line than the region photographed by Ranger 7. The pictures thus should have better definition of detail because of longer shadows cast by rocks, mountain peaks and other features.

The 4,312 pictures transmitted by Ranger 7 were about 2,000 times better than any obtained by land-based telescopic cameras. In the final shots, craters only 18 inches across were visible.

Space agency officials said the pictures indicate the lunar surface is covered with extremely fine rubble. Experts disagree on the depth. Ranger 8 may shed light on the controversy.

The launching will climax a major space doubleheader at Cape Kennedy.

A Saturn 1 rocket successfully hurled a giant space bird named Pegasus into orbit Tuesday to study the threat that meteoroids pose to manned space flight.

Sweepstakes Plan Fails In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia sweepstakes resolution collapsed just out of the starting gate today.

It was voted down overwhelmingly in the House, falling 52 votes short of the two-thirds majority needed for approval.

The vote for the resolution was 15-81. Sixty-seven votes were needed to pass the measure.

The measure by Del. Jesse S. Barker, D-Kanawha, had not been before the Senate. Had it been approved by two-thirds votes in both Houses, it would have put before the state's voters in the 1966 election a constitutional amendment to legalize a state-operated sweepstakes lottery.

Voter approval would have permitted — but not required — the legislature to set up a state sweepstakes lottery like that now operated by New Hampshire.

They then continued on through town, hitting Cunningham's Sohio Station about two blocks away at 3rd and Main Sts. Entry also was gained by breaking a window. The station is operated by John Cunningham of East Liverpool. A cigarette machine was rifled and money taken from a cash register.

At the Gitschier station, operated by Milton Gitschier of Wellsville, they forced open coffee, candy, cigarette and soft drink machines.

Wellsville burglaries was $78, Hephner said.

Although East Liverpool police believe the three are responsible for the burglary of four local service stations, Hephner said they deny being involved.

Intruders hit three East Liverpool stations within a narrow radius.

The burglaries were at Moore's Sohio Service on W. 8th St., operated by James Moore; Metts' Sohio Service Station, 736 Dresden Ave., owned by Ralph Metts, and the Hays Oil Co. Station on E. 5th St. at Broadway, owned by Norman Nicely.

The entries of the two Standard Oil stations were discovered by police within a 15-minute span this morning. Personnel of the Hays Oil Station found the entry there when reporting for work.

At the Moore station, the intruders broke into coffee and cigarette vending machines, taking an undetermined amount of cash, and also took a box of assorted tools valued at $75, police said.

ENTRANCE was gained by breaking a 20-x-16-inch pane of glass out of a 5-x-7-foot window, officers said.

Patrolman J. A. Walsh discovered the burglary at 5:15 this morning.

At the Dresden Ave. station, the intruders took 22 books of trading stamps and an undetermined amount in postage stamps and also rifled a cigarette machine and a desk drawer, taking cigarettes and change, officers said.

The entry occurred sometime after 11 last night. It was discovered at 5:30 this morning by Lt. William E. McDaniel. Police said the intruders forced their way through a rear door, breaking two locks.

The loss still has not been determined at the Hays Oil station, police said. Entrance was gained via a rear window sometime between 10 last night and 5:58 this morning.

THE FOURTH East Liverpool entry was at the Cooper Amoco Service Station, 206 E. 3rd St., owned by John F. Cooper, 526 Elizabeth St.

Police said the intruders pried open a cigarette machine and removed and rifled the cashbox, leaving it atop the machine. It was not known immediately if anything else was taken, officers said.

The burglary was discovered at 8:19 a. m. It occurred sometime after the station closed at 10 last night. The intruders pried a screen off a window on the east side, then pulled away three metal bars to gain entry, officers said.

Lt. McDaniel said East Liverpool officers will interrogate the suspects on the local burglaries. Some of the local loot was recovered after their arrest, he said.

had been killed, we would not have known it.

"He was completely on his own with the most fanatic inner circle of the conspiracy mob."

The official said: "Wood did the greatest police job ever, his cover was so good the conspirators still don't know how we got the information."

Wood kept a diary of his undercover activities, but he had to get it out of his possession daily and into the hands of a police contact.

Miss Duclos, according to a United Nations official, tried to get employment at the United Nations early last month. He said she sought a post as a reader of U.S. documentary broadcasts in French, but apparently failed tests given her.

The tall blonde, wearing a black dress and coat, protested when she was held in $100,000 bail by U.S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishopp.

"I am an honorable person," she said. "I have to work, sir. I am a reporter. I can't find that much bail."

Collier, after his arrest, was quoted as saying he plotted to blow up the American shrines because "I wanted to draw attention to the condition of my race."

Collier was a member of a student delegation that traveled to Cuba in 1964 in defiance of a State Department ban, and is the self-styled leader of the Black Liberation Front. He was being held by city police pending issuance of a federal warrant.

Bowe and Sayyed were held in $50,000 bail each.

Bowe, employed as a judo instructor, is a supporter of the pro-Castro Fair Play for Cuba Committee. Sayyed is a former student at Howard University School of Engineering in Washington, D.C.

Miss Duclos, Bowe and Sayyed all were charged with conspiracy to destroy federal property. Collier currently is charged under state laws with possession and intent to use explosives.

The defendants face a maximum 10 years in prison and $10,000 fines each on the federal charge of conspiring to dynamite government property.

West Virginia Legislators Handed Two Major Actions

CHARLESTON — Fuel for potentially hot controversies was dumped in the West Virginia legislature today with introduction of Gov. Hulett Smith's constitutional convention and state government reorganization bills. Speaker H. Laban White Jr., D-Harrison, introduced the constitutional convention measure in the House. White and Majority Leader Earl M. Vickers, D-Fayette, co-sponsored the dozen bills to begin extensive reorganization in the executive branch of state government.

Identical bills were introduced in the Senate later in the day by President Howard W. Carson, D-Fayette. The constitutional convention bill calls for: A special election Nov. 9 this year on whether to hold a convention.

A special nonpartisan election March 29 next year — provided the November vote favors a convention — to elect the 134 convention delegates.

A convention — again hinging on majority approval in November — beginning July 1 next year in Charleston. After convening here, the delegates could — if they chose — move the sessions to another city. There is no limit on the length of the convention.

The 134 delegates — the same as the number of legislators — would be apportioned on the basis as legislative membership. Anyone eligible to vote at the time of the March election also would be eligible to run for convention delegate upon paying a $25 filing fee.

The bill would pay delegates $25 a day for attending convention sessions or committee meetings. They also would get 10 cents a mile for one round trip a month between their homes and the convention site.

If the constitutional convention takes place, it will be West Virginia's first since the drafting of the present state constitution, which was ratified in 1872.

Piecemeal revision since then has been by the method of submitting amendments to the voters after two-thirds votes in both houses of the legislature.

The convention bill faces competition from 17 resolutions already introduced in the two houses to continue constitutional overhaul by the legislative route. Each of these would submit an amendment to the voters in the 1966 general election.

The administrative reorganization bills were among 33 introduced today in the House — the chamber's heaviest one-day run of bills so far this session.

The bills grew out of — but do not follow the letter — recommendations contained in a report submitted to the legislature last month at the opening of the 1965 session.

The report was by a special committee — headed by ex-Gov. W. W. Barron — set up by the 1963 legislature to study streamlining and consolidation of the executive branch. The committee's own report was accompanied by a survey by Public Administration Service of Chicago, a firm employed by the committee.

Today's reorganization bills dealt largely with overhaul and centralization of accounting and fiscal procedures, which was assigned first priority in the special committee's recommendations. The bills represent only a start on the complex undertaking. Among major proposals in today's bills were:

Creation of a new Department of Revenue to consolidate tax-collection duties now spread among several agencies. The consolidation would take place in steps over a two-year period, each by executive order. The present post of state tax commissioner would be abolished.

Abolition of the Department of Motor Vehicles and transfer of its functions to the Department of Revenue.

Consolidation of accounting and internal auditing under the commissioner of finance and administration. He would have control of statehouse data processing systems. The study committee criticized what it described as duplication and lack of full utilization of present computer and data processing facilities in various agencies.

Re-establishment of state budget director as a separate post. He would be appointed by and serve under the commissioner of finance and administration. The commissioner has had the budget directorship as an added duty since the separate post was dropped several years ago.

Assignment to the legislative auditor of post-audit after spending duties now performed by the tax commissioner.

As a relief pitcher with Cincinnati last year Sammy Ellis had a 7-1 record for 89 innings in 47 games.

Pole Project Brings Changes At Wellsville

Changes in the location of some utility poles in Wellsville has temporarily suspended use of a caution signal and brought a change in the site of a fire alarm box at Aten and Clark Ave. Fire Chief Robert Lewis reported today.

Stop signs have been put into position at 17th and Commerce Sts., he said, pointing out that Commerce is a stop street. The caution light will be put back in service when the pole changes are completed.

The alarm box at Aten and Clark was on the pole in front of the Hammond Store but now is on the opposite side of the street in front of the Dickey Store. Lewis services the city's traffic signal.

Leniency Studied In Road Fatality

Jefferson County Common Pleas Court Judge John Griesinger at Steubenville Tuesday took under consideration a request for mitigation for Robert Arnold Stollenwerk, 30, of 1119 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, who has entered a plea of guilty to second degree manslaughter.

Stollenwerk was indicted by the Jefferson County Grand Jury after the traffic death of Mary Xintarianos, 5-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Xintarianos of Steubenville, in a collision involving a truck driven by Stollenwerk and the Xintarianos car.

The mishap occurred Jan. 2 at the approach to the Ft. Steuben bridge.

Judge Griesinger deferred sentencing pending a court investigation.

State Of The State

The word being passed in Ohio political circles about Gov. James A. Rhodes is that even his critics are now giving him full credit for a first-rate job.
His state-of-the-state message Monday night was a showcase presentation of his accomplishments and aspirations.
Foremost among his accomplishments is a balanced operating budget, carrying out his promise to keep the state on an even keel without adding new taxes.
He has done this by underwriting Ohio's bond-issue money. He intends to continue this policy of public investment in the state's future. It is a key element in his program.

OHIOANS need to understand how investment in the future fits in with the governor's ideas for their state's future. They need to understand how this dynamic man has gone about the task of moving Ohio forward into a position of preference among its sister states in the Union.

This is what the critics of Gov. Rhodes mean when they give him credit for a first-rate job. He has set significant and powerful forces in motion. They will not be easily slowed down.

In the span of his second biennial budget, completing his four-year term in office, he intends to have made Ohio a national leader in mass education at all levels, industrial and business development, highways, public buildings, mental hygiene and correction, airports, preservation of historical sites and development of recreation facilities.

HE SHARES with President Johnson and the financial advisers of the federal government a firm belief in the power of the growth factor in public finance. Without raising taxes, Ohio has gained more than $200 million in revenue from the growth of population and business. The federal government, using the same reasoning, has been reducing tax rates holding its own on tax intake—thanks to the growth factor.
The growth factor is the central thought

The Commander-In-Chief

President Johnson is giving his closest personal attention to the military crisis in South Viet Nam. He is not delegating his constitutional authority as commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the United States to his military advisers.
He is not permitted to delegate it. This is a complex problem built into the Constitution. It has perplexed every chief executive in both wartime and peacetime.

The civilian president must be the supreme commander of the military arm of the government. But whenever the awful responsibility of leading the United States into war, or only to the brink of war, as everybody hopes will be the case in Viet Nam, the risk and awkwardness of the arrangement are driven home hour by hour and day by day. Abraham Lincoln, William McKinley, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman all knew the agony.

THE GULF between Lyndon B. Johnson and the professional militarists he must rely on for advice is likely to be wider and deeper than usual.

The President has declared he is unwilling to involve the United States in a war with the Chinese People's Republic. His military advisers, if they run true to form, will be full of firm ideas about how to fight Red China with professional competence.

This situation led to the head-on clash between President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur over the course to follow in Korea. The professional military mind could conceive of nothing but all-out victory. The professional political mind could conceive of nothing but the consequences of leading the United States into the all-out effort to wage all-out war with a country that could not be conquered.

To this day, Americans who backed MacArthur curse Harry Truman and speak bitterly of his "no-win policy." Lyndon Johnson will inherit all the rancor of the clash over proper policy in Korea.

VIET NAM, like Korea, is backed by

Purely Personal

You can tell when spring is coming. It's when the black top begins to disintegrate.

It is impossible for me to drum up sympathy for cave explorers, people who jump out of airplanes for fun, mountain climbers and losers in Russian roulette.

One of my composure-testing experiences when toiling at back-breaking projects on my one-day-a-week off is to stop for breath and see our three dogs solemnly staring at me. "Look at the silly man working."

Once more it comes down to a case of "my country right or wrong"—but once more it also comes down to a case of my country's being mixed up in something that never was in line with prevailing popular opinion.

While watching race-horse basketball on TV, I remember my introduction to the game on the second floor of a decrepit in everything Gov. Rhodes is doing in Ohio's behalf.

He is imbued with a conviction that the state must move forward continuously to hold its place in the Union.
To advance itself it must accelerate its forward motion in every way possible. This is the governor's mission—to accelerate Ohio's growth.
Main emphasis is on education. Gov. Rhodes proposes nearly a billion dollars for education in the next two years, including funds from the bond issue proposal on the ballot in the May primaries.

IMPROVEMENT is in the works all up and down the line—agriculture to youth, highways to welfare.
"I believe it is one of my duties as governor of Ohio to be its busiest salesman," Gov. Rhodes declared in his state-of-the-state message. "I assure you that I am doing the very best I can."
Ohioans can say in response that Gov. Rhodes is doing very well indeed.

'Faithful' Need Aid

We spent a pleasant evening this week at the annual dinner meeting of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce.
The companionship was most enjoyable, the food tasty and the principal address interesting.

The lone disturbing factor was the failure of more members to attend. The "old faithful" — the nucleus of the Chamber — were on hand and doing their bit as always, but conspicuous by their absence were too many others who should have been present.

Like other river communities, Wellsville has hopes of attracting new industry. These hopes will have a tendency to fade somewhat, however, if an active, energetic organization is not ever-ready and ever-present to speak up forcefully on behalf of the advantages which the city has to offer industrial-wise.

A re-vitalized Chamber of Commerce can serve as such an organization.

two great Asiatic powers — the Chinese People's Republic and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. To fight there effectively, the United States would have to do what no other nation would dream of doing—stage a large-scale military offensive in an unfriendly country on the other side of the earth.

The United States has not gone to war with North Viet Nam. A declaration of war against it, or against the Chinese People's Republic, would have to be made by Congress.

This is another perplexity of responsibility for a beleaguered commander-in-chief. When does a nation go to war? Is the United States now at war with North Viet Nam? Has he already declared war by executive order?

President Johnson will have neither time nor inclination to think about the happy days of his inauguration now. They must seem a long way off as he weighs the fateful decision of whether the United States should be led into or out of war.

Safe Boating

Another boating season is not too far distant and the Ohio River and nearby lakes once more will be swarming with pleasure craft of varied descriptions.

More and more are turning to boating as an enjoyable form of recreation. With the increasing numbers using area water pools, the need for safety increases proportionately.

Beginning March 2, under the supervision of the Coast Guard Auxiliary, an eight-lesson course in basic seamanship will get under way at the Red Cross office in the Mary Patterson Memorial building here.

It is essential to have your craft as mechanically perfect as possible. Just as essential is a thorough knowledge of the rules and procedures that combine for its safe operation.

Boaters — especially newcomers — should make it a point to take advantage of the instruction being offered by the Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Red Carpet Treatment

Crusading Attorney Hits At The Mafia

By Victor Riesel

Soon the fear will be eased in the rag jungle. It's about to lose one of its long feared denizens, a veteran of Murder, Inc., a "capo regime" in one of the Cosa Nostra's toughest combines, a buddy of ill-famed "Three Finger Brown," an extortionist believed to be one of the East's most powerful underworld millionaires.

Few will recognize his name, either as James Plumeri, acid-tongued uncle of Johnny Dio, or under his alias—Jimmy Doyle.

So little known is he to the public, his conviction the other day in a Federal Court in New York on charges of making false statements on his income tax returns has gone unnoticed.

THE LEGAL FIGHT against him was waged by a courageous, crusading young assistant U.S. attorney, Harold Baer Jr.

Working almost without witnesses, Mr. Baer wove an intricate case against Plumeri and thus, for the first time, cracked a hitherto immune Mafia front. Mr. Baer proved that Plumeri had operated as a loan shark charging frightened garment manufacturers 120 per cent a year interest on loans.

The swift thinking Mr. Baer, who is handling most of the Justice Department's industrial-labor racket cases in this vast center, also revealed to the jury how Plumeri had received a set fee from a "dental plan" for "convincing" unions to subscribe to its services for their members. The "plan" has since been dissolved and many of its officers are now under indictment on charges of bribing some union officers.

THIS CASE has been three years in the making. Plumeri's mistake was to neglect to list the interest on loans and the dental plan payoffs on his income tax. His conviction can send him up for six years and result in heavy fines.

There is, however, far more significance to the case than the jailing of Plumeri - Doyle. This is the first successful move against an industrial racketeer which springs from the coordinated effort of the FBI, the Internal Revenue Service and other agencies working with the revitalized Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Justice Department's Criminal Division.

It proves that this combination can obtain convictions even if most witnesses are frightened off.

Plumeri is the first of the Cosa Nostra crowd exposed by Joe Valachi to be convicted in the rackets outside the narcotics trade.

It hits at the inner corps of the criminal elite.

FEW REALIZE the power of such Cosa Nostra "capos" not only in the garment jungles but inside the intricate networks of the criminal shadowland which stretches across the nation.

The industrial interests of the nation's Plumeris are so varied, their contacts so widespread, that one doesn't use the earthy word "mobster" for them. Plumeri is typical of the elite.

For four decades now he has been in the garment, trucking, restaurant, boxing, shoulder pads and seam businesses. He's even in the entertainment field. Some time ago he threatened to push a prominent crooner, whom he owned, out a window.

FEDERAL RECORDS associate him with more than 300 men. Some of them were at the Apalachin crime convention back in 1957. Some operate businesses in Eastern Pennsylvania. Others are part of the Chicago and Detroit syndicates.

Like Plumeri, who served time at Sing Sing for extortion, hundreds of his associates have come through from the old muscle days to the appearance of legitimate businessmen. But the record shows that they still pressure their competitors and unions.

Now for the first time one of them is heading for the federal pen. Crusading U.S. attorney Harold Baer Jr. has made history — much to the relief of thousands who thread the rag and asphalt jungles.

Letter To The Editor

Saturday evening a terrible accident occurred on Route 30, just outside of Chester. Somehow a lot of people think this was an accident that could have been avoided had the State Road Commission taken care of a particular icy place in the road which had existed for years. The accident resulted in three persons being hospitalized and two cars a total loss.

Now another situation exists in Chester today and no one seems to be fully aware of the seriousness of it — not until we have another accident, and this time it will probably result in the death of one or more children.

At the railroad crossing at 6th St. there is an unattended crossing and children six, seven and eight years of age have to cross here daily going and coming from Chester Primary School. Fortunately, so far we have had no accidents. But how long can a situation like this exist before we do?

I would appeal to all parents who have children attending this school that we do something about it immediately before your child or mine is killed by a train. A situation like this cannot go on indefinitely without an accident and surely now is the time to prevent one.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 17, the 48th day of 1965. There are 317 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1800, the House of Representatives elected Thomas Jefferson president. It was the first time the House elected a president, the result of a tie in the Electoral College.

On this date In 1916, the British and French captured the German colony of Cameroon, Africa.

In 1943, New York Yankee baseball star Joe DiMaggio enlisted in the Army.

In 1944, American forces invaded Eniwetok atoll in the Marshall Islands.

A Remedy's Needed

By David Lawrence

Dock Situation Points To Need For Action

Collective bargaining received a body blow in the last few weeks. Many union leaders are unhappy about this, but they are powerless to make those unions which act irresponsibly conform to the public interest. So public opinion will naturally turn to the government for a remedy.

Much as all sides dislike to see enacted any new laws or amendments to existing statutes restricting the arbitrary power of labor unions or management, the residue of ill feeling left by the recent dock strike can hardly be ignored by Congress.

Not only has the national economy suffered losses which President Johnson referred to as "staggering proportions," but lots of workers also incurred substantial losses in income and other hardships during the strike.

THE BIG QUESTION is how to regulate the collective bargaining process so that the bluffing and the bludgeoning will be superseded by a sincere and honest effort to reach an agreement and, if this failed, the case would be submitted to a fact-finding board, which at least could clarify the issues.

The Taft-Hartley Act, which provides for an 80-day "cooling-off" period, has not solved the problem, because each side stands firm and regards the "cooling-off" device as merely an artificial extension of the negotiations.

The real difficulty lies in the fact that usually neither side trusts the other, and there's always the belief on the union side that, if a strike can be prolonged, management will give in or will make more concessions than would have been the case if earlier proposals had been accepted.

A change in sentiment is developing throughout the country, and a feeling is growing that, distasteful as it may be to all sides, the government must step in and introduce some new form of settling strikes so as to protect the public interest.

THE WASHINGTON Evening Star comments as follows:

"While we do not expect to see it come to pass at an early date, we hope the time is approaching when a president and a Congress will insist upon compulsory arbitration in major industries to protect the national interest. There are plenty of laws on the books to deal with abuses of power by big business. Why should big unions be permitted to abuse their power with impunity?"

The Washington Post says editorially that Congress ought to modify the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act "so that the government would not be caught in similar predicaments in the future." The editorial then adds:

"The inadequacies of the present law have long been recognized. It's true that there are many different views as to how it should be amended. At the very least Congress could authorize recommendations by fact-finding boards set up to investigate threats to the national health and safety and extension of the period during which essential industries would have to continue operations while negotiations were taking place.

As it is now, the government is left helpless to deal with oncoming national calamity as soon as the inadequate Taft-Hartley procedures run out."

MANY SUGGESTIONS along the same line have been offered whenever critical situations have arisen in disputes between management and labor.

Compulsory arbitration, for instance, has frequently been urged, but it has been rejected as a formula by both the labor and the management side. The objection is that arbitrators satisfactory to both parties are hard to select and that often, though conscientious, they are unfamiliar with the working conditions or the industrial problems involved.

There is a fear, too, that the arbitration procedure might be introduced too early in the negotiations.

One proposal that may gain favor would provide that, whenever a serious disagreement has arisen in collective bargaining negotiations, the government should step in with either a fact-finding or mediating procedure, but that strikes should not be permitted unless there is absolutely no chance of working out an agreement by negotiation.

A Red Chinese Trick?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON It looks too slick to be an accident.

If it's no accident, then what occurred in Viet Nam takes on new meaning and the Red Chinese have sought to make fools of the Russians by dragging them into ugly relations with the United States.

Briefly, the point of what follows is two events oceans apart: Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin was in North Viet Nam when the United States bombed it; and Red China's little ally, Albania, tried to force an American-Soviet showdown.

The Soviet Union and Red China have been on bitter outs, supposedly because of their ideological differences: China insists on far more aggressiveness towards the West; the U.S.S.R. preaches peaceful coexistence.

But the split probably goes far beyond ideology. For example: the nationalism of the two peoples and the long-range ambitions of the two giants which lie side by side in Asia.

The Soviet Union has called a March 1 conference in Moscow for Communist parties: This meeting could lay the groundwork for broad discussions of ideological differences which have torn the Communist world apart.

Red China refuses to attend. It would be the gainer, and look the wiser, if before March 1 something happened to drive the Soviet Union into a renewed hostility towards the West.

Remembering what this would mean to China, look at this: With the Moscow meeting less than a month away, Kosygin, after stopping off briefly in China, made his first trip to Communist North Viet Nam. He had hardly arrived when an extraordinary event happened.

Red guerrillas, warring in South Viet Nam but with their base in North Viet Nam, pulled their most spectacular exploit in years: they attacked a U.S. air base, killing and wounding Americans and wrecking planes.

President Johnson promptly ordered some bases in North Viet Nam bombed. Since that happened shortly after Kosygin's visit to Red China, this question can reasonably be asked: If the Red Chinese and North Vietnamese wanted to put Kosygin on the spot — he went to North Viet Nam to state Soviet support — could they have figured Johnson would respond to the air base attack with a bombing?

The answer is yes. When North Vietnamese PT boats attacked American destroyers last August, and he ordered their bases in North Viet Nam bombed, he told the American people: Acts of violence against American armed forces "must be met with... positive reply."

Kosygin's government had been trying to maintain fairly friendly relations with the United States. But for North Viet Nam to be bombed while he was there on an aid mission, put the Soviet Union in an embarrassing position, and particularly with the whole Communist world.

He and his colleagues responded with the expected: they issued warnings that they would help North Viet Nam without saying how, when or where. All this could have been an accident.

Or — it could have been a product of Red Chinese and North Vietnamese scheming. Then something else happened Tuesday at the United Nations where Red China is not a member but its little European ally, Albania, is.

The Soviet Union had not been paying its full U.N. dues. The United States wanted it to. A showdown could wreck the world organization. The showdown would have to come on a vote of the General Assembly.

To avoid a blowup earlier this year, the assembly decided on a simple device: it would transact its business without voting directly on anything.

Tuesday Albania demanded this end and that voting begin. Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said it looks as "if some people want to wreck it." Asked if he thought Red China was behind it, he said, "I guess so."

All this could have been coincidence. Maybe.

Health Board May Act On Merger Plans

does not recognize the city's food service program and milk samples must be tested outside the city because the state does not consider the city chemist a qualified examiner.

"The Health Board has no control over the city's drinking water," Dr. Rugh continued, although contamination of the water can affect the health of all residents.

The Health Board has not been able to receive a chemical analysis of water samples but only a report that the water is safe for human consumption.

PLUMBING IS one of the bases for adequate health safety but the city has no plumbing inspector. In effect, he said, anyone can install any type of plumbing they desire.

Asked by Hancock if the consolidation would be a solution, Dr. Rugh termed it "a step in the right direction."

He said he believes the city should proceed with the consolidation regardless of cost, pointing out there is talk about more parking lots "but we do nothing for the health of our residents."

Opening the meeting, Cole pointed out that five Health Boards have been functioning in the county for years — one in the general health district and separate boards in the four cities.

"The same problems, however, exist on both sides of the line," he said.

COLE pointed out East Liverpool's per capita cost for health service is $1.18, Wellsville's is 91 cents and the general health district's is 76 cents, including a federal subsidy.

East Liverpool does not receive a federal subsidy since a health district is required to have either a full-time health commissioner or a physician devoting full time to public health and available on a part-time basis.

The per capita cost is misleading as to service, he continued, adding, "For the service given, East Liverpool is paying too much and the county too little."

A co-operative plan under which the health commissioner would spend two days in East Liverpool and three in the general health district was explored last summer, Cole continued, but it was found not to be satisfactory since the commissioner would be working for two separate health boards.

THE TREND, Cole said, since last summer has been toward consolidation "so we do the job right from the beginning."

Following a meeting in Lisbon last month between county and city officials, Mayor William Daugherty inquired about the possibility of Wellsville participating and the County Health

Board then asked the State Health Department to submit a proposal, Cole said.

Three proposals were forwarded by the state, but only the consolidation plan was explored.

Another alternative was a co-operative plan between the county, East Liverpool and Wellsville, and the third was a consolidation of Wellsville with the general health district and a co-operative agreement between the general health district and East Liverpool.

UNDER THE consolidation, both City Council and the Advisory Health Board composed of the presidents of each township trustee group and the mayors of the villages would have to agree.

Representatives of the city and the Advisory Council then would work out an agreement covering the operation, including how each community would be represented on a single board, Cole explained.

The state department's financial breakdown showed the combined budget of the three districts last year was $77,098 while the proposed budget for the consolidated district would be $77,456 or a per capita cost of about 87 cents.

Under the proposed consolidation, the general health district would pay $53,326, or an increase of $4,694, while East Liverpool's share would be $18,284, a drop of $6,156 from last year's budget of $24,440, and Wellsville's cost would be $5,846, a decline of $279 from the 1964 budget of $6,125.

THE STATE'S proposed budget would provide a health commissioner at a salary of $15,000 plus $700 for traveling expenses; two public health nurses at $8,600; three clerks at $8,175; four sanitarians, $18,960; other employees, $8,021; travel, $4,000, and other expenses, $14,000.

Cole pointed out the total salary for a health commissioner in the three separate districts is $19,860. Dr. Singer receives $13,500 as the county health commissioner; the East Liverpool salary is $5,340, and Wellsville's is $1,020 on a part-time basis.

East Liverpool has not had a physician as health commissioner since the death of Dr. E. G. Kuhlman about two years ago.

He pointed out it is difficult for cities to have a full-time commissioner because the average physician finds it difficult to give up his private income.

A PART-TIME commissioner cannot adequately administer a health service and maintain a private practice, he continued.

Mayor Hall pointed out that some smaller counties are consolidating their service so they can obtain full-time commissioners.

Questioned by Hancock and Bucher about the advantages to the city beside the financial savings, Cole, Dr. Rugh and Dr. Mayberry pointed out the city would receive the service of a qualified commissioner and gain the service of a plumbing inspector.

IN RESPONSE to another question, Dr. Singer indicated he could see no reason for the city not to continue to have a public health nurse and a registrar of vital statistics who would double as a clerk so that complaints could be turned in locally.

As the meeting neared an end, Cole said he doesn't know how the Advisory Council will react, but said the county board Monday night asked an increase of $5,000 in its budget for this year. The Advisory Council is scheduled to meet March 1.

Meeting Set At Salineville

The Altar and Rosary Society of the St. Patrick's Catholic Church at Salineville will meet Tuesday night at the rectory. Mrs. Emma Eish, president, said plans will be made for the annual St. Patrick's Day card party March 17.

Mrs. Susie Leek of Water St. is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCully, of Santa Rosa, Calif., who became the parents of a daughter Jan. 28.

Albert Hazel of Brecksville visited his mother, Mrs. Lena Hazel, over the weekend.

John Cuzzoli of Monroe Heights has returned from a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Adelaide McLain of Bergholz.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morrow and family of Alliance were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maher.

the administration and would be governed by whatever action the administration deemed necessary. He recommended the case be appealed.

Later, a motion for a new trial was filed. The motion is pending.

The resolution adopted last night expresses Council's desire not to appeal the case. It also states that any appeal made by Bush will be done at his own risk as Council will not authorize any funds for such action.

It was adopted under suspension of rules. It also stipulates that any action taken by the solicitor will be without authorization of Council, that the solicitor be notified by certified mail and that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to Common Pleas Court.

Councilman Walter Henthorne then raised the question as to whether or not Council could "hire" additional legal counsel in the case.

Bush commented from the audience that Council has that prerogative and within the law it can be done.

Henthorne then commented he had been talking to "a couple of persons" and that an offer had been made by a member of the bar to serve at no charge for the city or Council. He then made a motion this be done. The motion was seconded by Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi and all approved.

Police Chief John Hephner, in a letter, requested Council to adopt legislation setting up a specific office of special or extra patrolman in the city, suggesting the Civil Service Commission eligibility list be used.

As Council members were not sure what action was wanted by the chief, the letter was referred to the rules committee for study.

French Aide Awaited For Talks At Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville arrives in Washington tonight for talks with President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on relations between the two countries.

There is no prepared agenda for the discussions, which some officials believe may pave the way for a meeting of Johnson and French President Charles de Gaulle later this year.

Legion Auxiliary In Newell Seats Chaplain, Historian

Installation of two new officers was held at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary of Newell at the post home Monday night. Mrs. Phyllis Raymond was inducted as chaplain and Mrs. Catherine Hutton as historian.

Mrs. Mae Hupp announced that the district conference will be held April 25 at Fairmont.

Mrs. Nancy Laneve reported on the Americanism essay contest held in the ninth grade. Judges were Miss Virginia Laneve, Mrs. Edith Moore and Mrs. Vera Nease. First prize of $5 went to Gregg Todd, second prize of $3 to Debbie Cox and third prize of $2 to Phyllis Little.

Mrs. Hupp reminded members to bring recipes for the cookbook, which will be sold in a project for Dollars for Scholars funds.

The constitution and bylaws committee, including Mrs. Sayde Nalley, chairman, Mrs. Helen McKenna, Mrs. Hupp and Mrs. Billie Martin, will meet Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in the office of the post home.

The birthday - commanders dinner, which will be held April 3, was discussed. Prizes in games went to Miss Elizabeth Hupp, president, Mrs. Hupp, Mrs. Elsie Mercer, Mrs. Louise Staley, Mrs. Catherine Hutton, and Mrs. Martin. Hostesses were Mrs. Phyllis Raymond and Mrs. Laneve.

Next meeting of the auxiliary will be held March 1.

Wellsville Woman Will Mark 101st Birthday Anniversary

Mrs. Alice Mae Boothman, Wellsville's oldest resident, will quietly observe her 101st birthday anniversary Friday at Besse's Nursing Home, where she is a patient.

Her granddaughter, Mrs. Geraldine (Elmore) McNeal, of Canfield will have dinner with her. Also, there will be her favorite white birthday cake provided by her daughter, Mrs. C. W. (Florence) Arnold and ice cream which she will share with other patients in the home.

Although Mrs. Boothman's eyesight is failing so that she cannot read, her mind is keen and she is interested in events of the day.

She has almost recovered from a wrenched back which confined her to bed for several weeks and is able to be up most of the day. She can walk around when aided. The aged resident receives quite a lot of mail and especially the past few days for her birthday anniversary.

She was born during the Civil War strife on a farm in Fulton County. She moved to Wellsville in 1922 and is a former member of the Order of Eastern Star, a charter member of the DAR and a member of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Boothman's daughter, who is recovering from a broken hip at the Sleighbell residence in Austintown, and her husband, also a patient there, expect to arrive Feb. 27 at their home on Riverside Ave.

A three-member nominating committee was named at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Community Rescue Mission Tuesday night at the center on Broadway. Roland Edgar, president, presided.

It includes Norm Nicely, Don Smith and Delmas Sanford.

Supt. Carl Mansfield presented the January report showing 175 persons provided beds; 553 meals served and 30 families helped.

Ed Wines announced tentative plans for the fund drive to be conducted April 1-18.

The president announced that the new washer for use at the mission has been delivered. Don Smith, treasurer, also gave his report.

The group will send a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Ethel Richman, widow of Steve Richman, who was an active board member for many years.

The next meeting March 16 will feature the annual fellowship dinner for board members and their wives.

4 Cars Damaged In City Collisions

Four cars were damaged in minor traffic mishaps Tuesday afternoon and night, police reported.

A collision on E. 6th St. 100 feet east of Broadway at 7:36 involved a 1955 two-door sedan driven by Lynda Lou Johnson, 16, of 659 Lincoln Ave. and a 1963 two-door sedan operated by Willis W. Campbell, 72, of 1020 Bradshaw Ave., officers said.

The girl said she started to pull from a parking space, but her car stalled and then was hit by Campbell's auto. Campbell said the girl pulled in front of his car. He said he applied the brakes, but slid into her auto.

A collision Tuesday at 2:28 on E. 6th St. 40 feet west of Washington St. damaged a 1950 sedan driven by Paul T. Campbell, 20, of Appian Way, Wellsville, and a 1963 sedan operated by John R. Strobel, 74, of 937 Princeton Ave., officers reported.

Guest Conductors Due At Festival

Two guest conductors from Illinois will participate in the annual Columbiana County Music Festival Feb. 26 at 8 p. m. at the Memorial Auditorium.

Edward T. Harn of Bloomington will be the band director and Daniel P. Tkach of Franklin Park choir director. The concert is open to the public and hosts will be Vincent L. Maola, instrumental director, and Robert L. Shankovich, choir director, of East Liverpool High School.

DANIEL TKACH

EDWARD T. HARN

HARN, who holds bachelor and master's degrees from Southern Illinois University, is president and founder of the School Band of America, the School Chorus of America and the newly-formed School Orchestra of America.

He has done additional work at Vandercook College of Music at Chicago, and has taught in the public schools of Illinois for 18 years.

He is director of the All-Star High School Band which presents the grand finale concert at the annual Mid-East Instrumental Music Conference, sponsored by the School of Music of Duquesne University in Pittsburgh.

HE WILL direct the fifth annual European concert tour of the School Band and Chorus of America this summer, leaving New York June 10. The annual concert tours of these organizations, which are official projects of the music committee of the People-to-People Program, have been hailed as one of America's foremost goodwill projects. The concert groups are made up of outstanding music students from all parts of the United States.

He has received eight gold medals from other governments for his contribution to a better understanding between America and Europe.

MUSIC CRITICS throughout Europe have acclaimed his work with young American musicians.

Tkach, choral director at East Leyden High School at Franklin Park for 18 years, received his bachelor of music degree in 1943 from Westminster College at New Wilmington, Pa., and his master's in 1947 from Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

He has been a faculty member of Vandercook College of Music in Chicago for 11 years, and is a staff member of the University of Illinois.

TKACH is director of Illinois Bell Telephone Chorus, a choral arranger, a sacred and secular music choral clinician, a festival guest director and an adjudicator.

Instrumental seating tryouts were conducted Tuesday at Lisbon High School. Rehearsal of county band and chorus, under the direction of county instructors, will be held Saturday at Westgate Junior High School, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Rehearsal will be conducted Feb. 25 from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Memorial Auditorium, under the direction of the guest conductors, and also on Feb. 26 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Girl, 6, Killed By Bus That She Was Riding

CINCINNATI (AP)—Hamilton County police are investigating an accident in which a six-year-old Groesbeck girl was killed as she was run over by her school bus.

Officers quoted driver Edward Feagan, 47, as saying he assumed Christine Thesken went around the rear of the bus after alighting across the street from her home. Instead, the child was in front of the bus when he started the vehicle. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thesken.

Midland Sets School Scoring Record In 103-37 Win

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The 1964-65 Midland basketball team entered another record into the books Tuesday night by racing past the 100 mark for a 103-37 victory over Beaver.

There weren't many records left for the current Midland to break as they have rewritten the books but the single game mark had eluded the Leopards until last night.

THE TOTAL of 103 marked the most points ever scored by a Midland team, bettering the old record of 101 which stood for 10 years. Led by Herb Lake, the 1954-55 team eclipsed the 100 mark against Mars.

The new record was set with 14 seconds remaining in the game. Brent Lake, who owned a hot shooting hand for the Leopards last night, tied the record on a jump shot with 57 seconds remaining.

BACKCOURT star Norm Vanlier received the opportunity to break the mark when he was awarded two foul shots and made both with 14 seconds to go.

The victory was the 20th in a row for Coach Hank Kuzma's Leopards and assured them of a tie for the Section 8 crown.

Mark Falls In Final Home Contest

Midland only has one more stop in the regular season when Kuzma takes his team to New Brighton for the grand finale Friday night. Midland defeated New Brighton in easy fashion earlier in the season.

Midland will take a 9-0 Section mark to New Brighton where the Lions have an 8-1 record and are the only team that could possibly tie the Leopards. New Brighton defeated Monaca, 76-65, Tuesday night.

ANOTHER Section 8 crown would give Midland the credentials to enter the WPIAL tournament with another crack at Uniontown and a state title foremost in the minds of the Leopards and their followers.

Midland went out to score the first 14 points as Beaver didn't get on the scoreboard until 1:33 remained in the opening period when Mike Miller hit on a jump shot.

THE LEOPARDS owned a 19-4 first quarter lead, extended that to 47-13 at halftime and carried the rout to 68-23 after three periods.

Midland staged a whirlwind finish scoring 35 points in the last eight minutes to set the school mark.

Steady Ron Brown poured in 25 points and Lake was right behind with 24 points. It was Lake's shooting which featured the fourth quarter.

He turned in his best shooting night of the campaign hitting on 12 of 16 shots and made eight out of 10 the second half. Lake fired in 14 points in the final quarter.

BROWN had a good night too hitting on eight of 10 shots while making nine of 11 fouls.

Norm Vanlier was next in line with 19 points and Sim Hill, who already holds the career scoring record, added 14 points to the attack but controlled the backboards with ease. Hill missed eight shots making five out of 13.

The Leopards shot 53 per cent taking 79 shots and making 42. Beaver only got 36 shots away and made 12 for 31 per cent.

JACK ROWSE was top man for Beaver collecting 14 points.

Kuzma went after the single game record last night. It was Midland's last game at home and the Midland coach sent his starting five in to get the record in the closing minutes.

The Midland reserves also remained undefeated with a 48-31 victory over the Beaver jayvees. Glenn Humbert and Larry Walker had 10 each for the young Leopards which own a 16-0 mark.

MIDLAND-103: Brown 8-9-11-25; Vanlier 7-5-5-19; Hill 5-4-6-14; Lake 12-0-0-24; Alston 4-1-2-9; Martin 1-0-2-2; Mahurt 3-0-1-6; Williams 2-0-0-4. Totals 42-19-27-103.

BEAVER-37: Rowse 5-4-4-14; Creese 2-2-4-6; Parker 0-1-1-1; Jefferson 1-4-7-8; Ma-teer 1-0-0-2; Passavant 1-0-0-2; Miller 1-0-0-2; Blanchard 1-2-3-4. Totals 12-13-19-37.

Providence, Davidson In Easy Romps

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota and Vanderbilt took the headlines away from Davidson, Providence, Cornell, St. Joseph's and Connecticut in college basketball Tuesday night.

Minnesota whipped Wisconsin 101-91 on the road to keep alive the Gophers' hopes for their first Big Ten title in 28 years. Vanderbilt, playing at home, edged Kentucky 91-90 to tie Tennessee for the lead in the South-eastern Conference.

Davidson beat Wofford 117-72 for its 21st straight. Providence downed Rhode Island 88-72 for its 19th straight. Cornell made it 14 in a row by defeating Columbia 89-90. St. Joseph's Hawks won their 12th straight by clouting Bucknell 94-57 and Connecticut won its 10th straight by tripping Boston U. 89-78. Davidson, Providence and Connecticut won at home. St. Joseph's and Cornell on the road.

Lou Hudson's 34 points paced the Minnesota Gophers, ninth-ranked in this week's Associated Press poll. It was the sixth straight for the Gophers and upped their Big Ten record to 7-1, one game behind the country's top-ranked Michigan Wolverines. Minnesota's two games with Michigan on Feb. 23 and March 6 may well decide the Big Ten crown, an honor Minnesota hasn't achieved since 1937.

Vanderbilt, knocked out of the AP Top Ten by losing to Tennessee last Saturday, came from 14 points back to beat Kentucky and tie Tennessee for the SEC lead.

Two free throws by John Ed Miller with 10 seconds left won the game after 33 points by Clyde Lee, 24 in the second half, pulled the Commodores from behind. Miller finished with 30 points to help eliminate Kentucky, last year's champ, from the SEC race.

Fred Hetzel's 33 points sparked the fifth-ranked Davidson Wildcats over Wofford. Jim Benedict and Jim Walker each tossed in 20 points to pace third-ranked Providence over Rhode Island. Tom Duff's 20 points led the fourth-ranked St. Joseph's Hawks in their rout of Bucknell.

The other teams in the AP Top Ten, Michigan, UCLA, Duke, Indiana, Tennessee and Wichita, did not play.

Sophomore Wes Bialosuknia flipped in 37 points to lead Connecticut over Boston U. while Steve Cram stuffed in 32 points, 22 in the second half, to pace Cornell over Columbia.

First place Texas Tech turned back its latest challenger in the Southwest Conference, Texas, by 87-73 behind Dub Malaise's 30 points at Lubbock. Dave Bing scored 45 points to spark Syracuse to a 93-90 three overtime victory over Colgate at Hamilton, N.Y., and Illinois crushed Ohio State 95-72 behind Don Freeman's 26 points at Champaign.

Rick Barry, the nation's leading scorer, was held to 19 points as his Miami, Fla., Hurricanes defeated Stetson 94-84.

With Late Bucket Follansbee Nips Oak Glen

FOLLANSBEE — A field goal from under the basket with two seconds remaining by Rich Simonetti climaxed an uphill struggle to give Follansbee a 58-57 upset victory over visiting Oak Glen here Tuesday night.

Trailing by six points at half-time, 32-26, Follansbee closed the gap to three, 48-45 at the end of third period then overtook the Bears at the very end.

Oak Glen led all the way until the final seconds Tuesday night as Coach Bob Starkey's team suffered its ninth loss in 17 games. The victory leaves Follansbee with a 7-9 record and

Estes Named All-America After Death

By ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Wayne Estes set four goals for himself during his basketball career at Utah State University.

He achieved the final one Tuesday — eight days after he was electrocuted in a bizarre accident. He was named to The Associated Press 1964-65 All-America first team.

Heading into his senior year at USU last fall, Estes told Coach Le Dell Andersen he wanted:

— The single-game scoring record at Utah State's Nelson Field House. (He set it Feb. 8—the night he died—with 48 points against Denver University).

— The USU career scoring mark. (He hit it with a total of 2,001 points).

— Victory over arch-rival University of Utah on the Utes' home court in Salt Lake City. (He scored 32 points when Utah State downed Utah 86-85 Jan. 7).

Selection to the All-America first team.

The award, first given posthumously and first given before the end of the regular season, was presented to Coach Andersen in front of 5,000 students in the Nelson Field House, where Estes played his last game.

The occasion was a campus memorial for Estes.

Because of Estes' death, The Associated Press departed from tradition in making the early award. Wayne's All-America teammates will be announced later.

"Wayne wanted this honor more than any other," said Andersen, in accepting the AP first-team certificate. "This would have been his greatest moment."

Beaver Frosh Tame Tigers

Beaver Local's freshman team scored a 61-41 victory at Wells-ville Tuesday afternoon to boost its record to 9-6 for the season.

The young Beavers close their campaign today at the Beaver gym facing Toronto.

Dennis Klembara sparked Beaver Local with 15 points while Wayne Stewart dropped in 11. Beaver Local led all the way showing a 31-16 bulge at half-time.

South Side Falls At Charity Line

Bellevue, the second place team in Section 22 edged South Side, 67-60 with some adept foul shooting Tuesday night, at South Side.

Both teams had 27 field goals but Bellevue made 13 of 14 fouls while South Side only dropped in six of 14.

The victory was the 12th in 13 League starts for Bellevue which trails undefeated Coraopolis. South Side's league record is 2-11.

The Rams stayed on the heels of Bellevue for over three quarters but the visitors pulled away in the closing minutes. South Side trailed 18-15 at the end of the first frame, 36-34 at half-time but cut the lead to one 48-47 after three periods.

Don Black scored 20 points and Phil Pechuns 18 to pace Bellevue. South Side was led by Don Peden's 19 points and Dave Ashcroft's 13 markers.

The South Side reserves dropped a tough, 42-41, decision in the preliminary battle.

Amateur Groups Meet To Study Compromise

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—A high-level committee representing the warring factions in the fight for control of amateur sports in the United States swung into action today in an effort to arrive at a compromise.

It was the first such meeting since the long-smoldering argument between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association flared into the open three years ago and threatened to cripple the 1964 American Olympic team until Gen. Douglas MacArthur imposed a truce.

There was an air of cautious optimism on both sides.

Representing the AAU were its newly elected president, Clifford T. Buck of Denver; Bob Kipphut, retired athletic director and swimming coach at Yale; and Jay-Ehret Mahoney, New York attorney who is immediate past president of the AAU.

Representing the NCAA were President Everett D. Barnes, athletic director at Colgate University, also newly elected; the Rev. Wilfred Crowley, director of the Jesuit Retreat House at Los Altos, Calif., who is president of the NCAA's United

2 NFL Clubs Oppose Co-op Plan On AFL

By PATRICK MCNULTY
Associated Press Writer
PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP)

Winds of eventual cooperation with the American Football League were blowing today at the National Football League's annual meeting following a crackdown on premature signing of college players.

There were indications from the closed-door sessions that 12 of the 14 team owners favored some sort of liaison with the rival league.

Opposed to any immediate cooperation with the AFL, it was unofficially understood, were the New York Giants and the San Francisco 49ers — the only NFL teams with rival AFL teams on their doorsteps.

The Giants are competing with the New York Jets and the 49ers with the Oakland Raiders in the San Francisco Bay Area. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle had nothing official to say about any between-league cooperation, including a common draft or merger.

The league owners Tuesday set up stiff penalties for any teams involved in signing college players before they are officially available for the pro ranks.

The resolution spelled out a previously announced NFL plan to prevent incidents such as last season's signing by the Minnesota Vikings of three Oklahoma University players before the Gator Bowl game.

Rozelle told a news conference that any team guilty of premature signing could lose its entire draft choices for "as many years as the commissioner decides."

Rozelle said contract bargaining rights for the player or players triggering the violation would be passed along to the team at the bottom of the NFL standings.

Rozelle said the resolution would be sent to Jim Corbett, Louisiana State athletic director who heads an NCAA pro-collegiate relations committee.

The NCAA has been highly critical about premature contract signing of college players by both the NFL and AFL.

Rozelle said his office would keep a sharp eye out for offenders and added:

"I think the colleges will help us in this matter."

Mathias Five Gains 4th Win In 'Y' League

The Mathias five of the YMCA Member Basketball League won its fourth straight Tuesday night with an 87-76 victory over Bloor's.

Pacing the leaders was Gene Nicholson with 36 points while Bob Bloor had 30 for losers.

Hildebrands posted its third win in four starts by tripping Kind's, 70-59. Joe Anderson's 17 points led the attack while Frank Kenney tallied 15 and Darrell Hall 14 for the losers.

Milt Martins poured in 36 points to lead Lightfoot's to an 81-67 victory over Loy's. Jim Tice topped Loy's with 27 points.

Canton's Pro Eleven May Shift To Philly

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Canton's professional football team, last season's United Football League champions, apparently will play its home games in Philadelphia this year.

The Bulldogs were purchased by Philadelphia interests and now are in the newly organized Continental Football League.

The owners were willing to retain the franchise in Canton if Fawcett Stadium were available for home games.

But the Canton Board of Education Tuesday turned down a second appeal by Bulldog coach Boris Dimancheff for use of the 20,000-seat stadium. "The team probably will be located in Philadelphia now," he said.

The Bulldogs played at Central Catholic Stadium last year, with a capacity of 6,000.

Akron U. Denies That It Welshed On Grid Schedule

By The Associated Press
Parsons College of Iowa has accused Akron University of welshed on its football schedule commitments but Akron officials deny they made any such agreement.

Parsons coach Marcelino Huerta started the round of accusations and denials Tuesday by saying he will protest to Akron officials and to the ethics committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Huerta said he and Akron athletic officials had a gentleman's agreement to meet next Sept. 25.

San Diego State later approached Parsons for the same date, he said, and State was informed of the Parsons-Akron game.

Huerta said Akron officials later called him and said they would be unable to play Parsons Sept. 25 because they were scheduled to meet San Diego State that day.

Akron officials replied that they did discuss the possibility of such a game during the recent NCAA meetings but nothing was put in writing.

Knicks Victors On Way To Best Season In Years

By The Associated Press
Unless they can figure out a way to lose their last 19 games in a row, the New York Knicks are headed for their best National Basketball Association record in three seasons.

And if they can somehow manage eight victories in those last 19 starts, the Knicks will enjoy their finest record since 1958-59.

Those are the pleasant prospects facing the Eastern Division's longtime cellar dwellers following their fifth victory in the last seven games, a 106-102 decision over the Baltimore Bullets Tuesday night.

In Tuesday's other games, Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 111-103, and Detroit turned back San Francisco 114-106.

The victory was New York's 22nd of the season, equalling last year's total output and bettering by one the total for 1962-63. You have to go back to 1961-62 to find a season when the Knicks won more games. They were 29-51 that year.

Former Philadelphia manager Eddie Sawyer has signed a contract to scout for the Phils in 1965.

Lee Walls Will Play With Japanese Nine

TOKYO (AP) — Lee Walls, formerly of the Los Angeles Dodgers, will play for the Hankyu Braves of Japan's Pacific League professional baseball team this year.

Walls, 31, signed a one-year contract with the Braves, who finished second last season.

Walls, an infielder and outfielder, is a veteran of more than 10 years in the National League.

Walls is expected to play third base for the Braves alongside former teammate Daryl Spencer, now a second baseman playing his second season with Osaka.

Player Believed To Hold Ticket Worth $110,624

MIAMI, Fla., (AP) — An unidentified better was believed to have made $110,624 by picking the winners of three races in Hialeah's twin double Tuesday.

But if so, he wasn't in any hurry to pick up the money. The mutual windows closed Tuesday and no one cashed the valuable tickets, which cost only $2 each.

The first half of the twin eliminated a host of players when Sette Bello won the fourth race, paying $49.80, and Green Ridge the fifth paying $169.20.

McGovern, of South Dakota, said the American people support President Johnson's actions, but that his own mail indicates by a ratio of 15 to 1 "that the people also favor efforts on our part to negotiate a cease-fire and a settlement in Viet Nam."

McGovern said that no one recognizes more clearly than the President that "bombing attacks in the north will not solve the guerrilla struggle in the south."

"I hope," McGovern continued, "that such tactics are aimed at increasing the pressure for negotiation rather than the false hope that military victory is possible for either side."

Church, of Idaho, said that if the fighting continues it will leave a tragic trail of casualties all out of proportion to U.S. national interest and still lead to a negotiated settlement with the Communists.

"The question really isn't whether we should negotiate," Church added, "but when."

The two spoke out in separate addresses prepared for Senate delivery in the growing congressional debate over Southeast Asian policy.

Tuesday, Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, the assistant Democratic leader of the Senate, said the nation should stand firmly behind Johnson in the face of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's demand for an American retreat from South Viet Nam.

Long, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said of the President: "I don't think he will yield to that ultimatum."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior Republican on the committee, said, "The South Viet Nam troubles could be brought to a close if Russia, Red China and North Viet Nam would withdraw their support for the forces trying to destroy the government and people of South Viet Nam."

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said the United States and other countries are obligated by treaty "to do everything we can to protect the sovereignty of South Viet Nam from guerrilla infiltration."

Richie Allen of the Phillies led the National League in total bases as a rookie last year. He had 38 doubles, 13 triples and 29 homers for a .352 bases.

Terms Suspended
A couple residing in Hillcrest, Wellsville, was sentenced Tuesday by Probate Judge Louis Tobin after he found one guilty and other pleaded guilty to contempt of court in connection with a marriage license issued by Probate Court to Victor Lee Hofmann, 19, of Hillcrest and the former Cheryl Dexter, 18, of East Liverpool.

Wellsville Area Couple Fined In Marriage Hoax
Mrs. Anna L. McDowell was given a suspended 10-day jail sentence and fined $100 and her husband, Major W. McDowell, was given a suspended five-day jail sentence and fined $50.

The case began when Victor Hofmann and Cheryl Dexter wanted to obtain a marriage license. The Hofmanns refused to sign for Victor, an adopted son.

Victor admitted asking the McDowells to sign his application for a marriage license, which was allegedly signed by a Rose Hofmann, but Mrs. Rosella Hofmann said that it was not her signature and that she didn't give consent.

Mrs. McDowell claimed she didn't read the application and that Robert Birbeck, chief deputy in Probate Court, didn't ask her if she witnessed the signature, but asked if she knew if Mrs. Rose Hofmann was Victor's mother.

In handing down the sentences, Judge Tobin said, "this court operates on sworn statements of people coming into the court and if these oaths are not taken seriously, the courts—this or any other court—cannot operate efficiently. If these violations are left to go unpunished, it leaves the door open for everyone to commit fraud, and would be a miscarriage of justice of our modern courts."

The court again ordered the prosecutor's office to prepare charges against Karl and Nancy Haught for witnessing the signatures of Cheryl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Dexter.

The Dexters both testified that they signed her application but not in the presence of the Haughts.

Victor Hofmann is presently serving a 10-day sentence for refusing to tell who signed Rose Hofmann's name on his application. On Feb. 10, he told the court his wife, Cheryl Dexter, signed it. Cheryl told the court she doesn't know who signed it and she readily agreed to sign her name several times as samples so that the prosecutor's office can send it to a handwriting expert at the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation and identification at London for a comparison.

Mrs. Robert Wilcox of Simmons Alley, LaCroft, Tuesday night at 7:55 when the home became filled with smoke from a clogged coal stove. Firemen, who cleared the house of smoke, said there was only smoke damage.

Dentists Ask Fluoridation At Wellsville

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night took under consideration a proposal made by a delegation of dentists that fluorine be added to the city's water as a preventive for teeth decay.

Dr. Myer Alpern of East Liverpool served as spokesman for the group, explaining they represented the East Liverpool District Dental Society, which includes Wellsville, Chester and Newell.

He cited cities, including Chester, which already have controlled fluoridation of the water. Others include Lisbon, Salem, Martins Ferry, Youngstown, Cleveland and Sebring.

"It is a preventive for dental disease," Dr. Alpern commented. Each member of Council was presented a folder containing literature on the process. It is endorsed by the Ohio Department of Health and the American Medical Society.

The cost of adding fluorine to the water would be approximately 5 to 7 cents a year per person. Dr. Alpern said East Liverpool is considering the program and the equipment there would cost approximately $2,000 to $2,500.

This system would add the necessary fluorine and provide adequate and safe control.

There is no taste or odor to the chemical. In essence, it hardens the enamel of the teeth and controls decay. It is especially effective for children who drink the water from infancy to 10 years of age although it definitely benefits adults, Council was informed.

Dr. Alpern pointed out that although fluorine is poison, if taken in large doses, chlorine also is poison but it is added to the water for the control of typhoid. Tests show fluorine does not have any detrimental effects on the human system, when taken in the controlled amounts.

He also pointed out that much water already contains a certain amount of the chemical which is picked up from the ground.

A very minute amount is added to the water.

Dr. Frank C. Beaumont of Wellsville said that it is something the city can give that will help all the people and urged Council to give the proposal full consideration. Dr. William L. McCutcheon of Wellsville also urged favorable consideration.

Track

Evans declared. "The track should be assessed this year at 45 per cent of $1,900,000, or $855,000.

"I can't see where they get the $670,000 figure. That's not even 36 per cent of the appraisal."

County Assessor Anthony Pirraglia said the $670,000 figure was "something he had inherited" from the preceding administration.

He said he feels the 45 per cent figure should go into effect in 1965. In the meantime, he suggested that the commissioners make a complete new appraisal of all track properties. The track was represented at the hearing by Howard Graham, comptroller, who is a brother of Commissioner Graham.

Finley, who has been closely aligned with Evans on tax-saving measures, said the track had received no reduction in depreciation allowance commensurate with its type of properties since 1961, and pointed out that a fire had damaged the main structure. A new clubhouse, he said, should be completed in July or August.

"This new clubhouse plus other improvements," he said, "will increase the appraisal another one million dollars. For that reason I thought we should continue with the present assessment until such time as a more accurate determination could be established."

Pirraglia said assessment on personal property at the track was not at issue. "The only involved was the real estate," he said.

Center Trustees Set Budget Of $56,000

LISBON — A 1965 appropriation of approximately $56,000 was authorized by Center Township trustees Monday night at a meeting in the Farmers Bank building.

In other business, members discussed repair of a stone crusher which was burned recently. At the time of fire over 2,000 tons of rock had been produced for use on township roads.

The board discussed the dumping of rubbish and trash along township roads instead of at dumps. Prosecution of those responsible was ordered by the board. Bills totaling of $2,100 were paid.

City Requests Curb Meters' Bids March 8

Bids on purchase of 450 new parking meters, enough to replace virtually all of the 1947 model devices now in service, will be opened at City Hall at noon on Monday, March 8. Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

Authority for the administration to call for bids and enter into a contract was voted by City Council on Jan. 18. The legislation provides that the city will trade in 450 of its old meters.

The original installation of parking meters in East Liverpool 17 years ago totaled 475. The cost was $32,000. A so-called "automatic" type, they were furnished by the Dual Meter Manufacturing Co. Other types have been installed piecemeal over the years in replacement of some of the original devices and extension of the metered zone.

The legislation provides various alternative ways in which the city may pay for the meters on an installment plan. It also provides the meters may be paid for in cash.

Councilman William Davis, whose committee investigated the need for meters, told Council it favors a plan that calls for the city paying the manufacturer each month a sum representing the difference in revenue between the new meters and the old devices.

For instance, if the March 1965 revenue was $5,000 and the devices brought in $4,000 in March 1964, the manufacturer would be paid the difference, or $1,000.

The legislation limits the bidding to the so-called "automatic" type, which is activated when a motorist inserts a coin. The other type is the so-called "manual," in which the motorist must turn a handle after inserting the coin.

A meter salesman told Council on Jan. 4 that if the bidding is restricted to the "automatic" type, only one firm will be able to submit an offer. James Krelb of the Kountz Equipment Co. in Pittsburgh, representing a manufacturer of manual devices, made the assertion. He said the Park-O-Meter Co. is the only firm which now manufactures the automatic meters.

Deaths and Funerals

Former Music Teacher Dies

Mrs. Bertha L. Cochran, 75, of LaMirada, Calif., widow of Danks G. Cochran, and a former private piano teacher of the area, died Monday morning at her home.

She was born in Carroll County Nov. 16, 1889, to John W. Grant and Kathryn White Grant, and left here seven years ago to reside in California. She was active in many music functions in the area for many years and was a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. Her husband died in August 1950.

She is survived by two sons, Richard Grant Cochran of La-Habra, Calif., and James Blaine Cochran of LaMirada, and nine grandchildren.

The Dawson Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Roger Hart

Mrs. Mary Gallo Hart, 32, of Webster Groves, Mo., wife of Roger Hart, and a former resident of East Liverpool, died Tuesday morning at her home after a brief illness.

Mrs. Hart was born in Falerina, Catanzaro, Italy, Feb. 26, 1932, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gallo, 734 Lang St. She came to America in 1936 and was reared here. She was graduated in 1949 from East Liverpool High School and from Hiram College in 1953.

In addition to her husband and parents, she leaves three sons, Gregory Hart, Phillip Hart and David Hart, and a daughter, Ann Hart, all at home, and a sister, Miss Frances Gallo of East Liverpool.

Services and burial will be in Middletown, Ohio. The Joe Baker Funeral Home there is in charge of arrangements.

Raymond L. Cowles

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Ellis-Leggett Funeral Home in Lisbon for Raymond L. Cowles, 1106 St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool, retired city electrician, who died Monday afternoon.

The Rev. Irwin E. Jennings of the Calvary Methodist Church will officiate and burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Survivors include two step-daughters, Gloria Zeiner at home and Norma Jean Martin of Cincinnati.

Friends may call this afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

Mrs. Roy R. Black

Mrs. Margaret E. Black, 1651 Cleveland Ave., wife of Roy R. Black and an employee at the Taylor Smith & Taylor Co., was pronounced dead on arrival this morning at 3:15 at City Hospital. She had taken ill earlier at her home. She was 50.

Mrs. Black was born in Richmond, W. Va., Dec. 2, 1914, to Mrs. Chloe Fox Perkins, who resides at the home, and the late Ira Perkins. She resided here since 1948. She worked last on Tuesday at the Chester plant. She was a member of the Boyce Methodist church and IBOP Local 124.

In addition to her husband and mother, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Patsy Ann Black, and a son, Donald E. Black, both at home; two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Williams and Mrs. Leora Richie, both of Parkersburg; two brothers, Louis Perkins of Los Angeles and Harry Perkins of Cleveland, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Leavitt Funeral Home at Parkersburg by the Rev. Richard L. Batton. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery there.

Friends may call at the Dawson Funeral Home here Thursday afternoon and evening, and at the Leavitt Funeral Home Friday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Ezra Miller

Services for Mrs. Dessie M. Miller, 72, of Smithfield, W. Va., wife of Ezra Miller, were held this morning at St. James Methodist Church at Smithfield with burial in the IOOF Cemetery at Salem, W. Va.

Mrs. Miller died Sunday at her home. She was born in Doddridge County Jan. 16, 1893, to James M. Mayfield and Jennie Swiger Mayfield.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a daughter, four stepsons, including Gordon Miller, and a step-daughter, Miss Mary Miller, both of East Liverpool, six brothers, two sisters, five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Arvin Williams

Arvin Williams, 84, formerly of Bergholz, died Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the Carroll Nursing Home at Carrollton, where he had been a patient for 20 months.

He was born in Carroll County March 20, 1880, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, and was a former chef in various restaurants. He was a member of the Bergholz Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Robbins Funeral Home at Bergholz with burial in the United Presbyterian Church Cemetery at Bergholz, R. D. 1.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

E. Edward Keeper

E. Edward Keeper, 121 W. 2nd St., a retired potter, died Tuesday at 8 p. m. at his home, after an illness of three weeks. He was 77.

Mr. Keeper was born in Graysville, Ohio, April 10, 1887, to John Keeper and Mary Blaser Keeper, and resided in this vicinity for 60 years. He was a kilnplacer at the Homer Laughlin China Co. and last worked in 1953. He was a member of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church and the IBOP. His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Keeper, died June 23, 1964.

He leaves several nephews and nieces.

Services will be held Friday at 10:30 a. m. at Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. Charles W. Kampmeyer. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday night.

Isaac Anderson

Isaac S. Anderson, 88, New Cumberland R. D. 1, Hillcrest Rd., a former railroad and timber cutter, died this morning at 2:45 at City Hospital, after a long illness. He had been a patient 2 1/2 months.

Mr. Anderson was born Aug. 11, 1876, in Webster County, W. Va., to Lewis Anderson and Sarah Hinkle Anderson. He spent a great part of his lifetime in Webster County and came to Hancock County in March 1949. He was an engine hostler for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. He was a member of the Panther Run Methodist Church in Hacker Valley, W. Va.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mertie A. Anderson at home; two sons, Marvin Anderson of Weirton and Arnold Anderson of New Cumberland R. D. 1; a daughter, Mrs. Elva (Connie) Fisher of New Cumberland R. D. 1; three brothers, Marion Anderson, Robert Anderson and Lytle Anderson, all of Cleveland, W. Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Renie Wilson of Hightown, Va., and Mrs. Lorena Morrison of Washington, and 17 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 3 p. m. at the Arner Chester Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Gerald Dietch, pastor of the Pugh-town Christian Church, and the Rev. Ralph Hedrick, pastor of the Newell Methodist church. Burial will be in Shadow Lawn Memory Gardens in Newell.

Friends may call at the chapel tonight and Thursday.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

Bond Issue Loses

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio — Voters of the Jackson-Milton School District Tuesday defeated 876 to 280 an $840,000 bond issue to finance a new 600-student high school.

County Slated $1,678,000 In Park Projects

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS — The state expects to spend $1,678,000 on Columbiana County natural resources projects in the next six years.

This was disclosed Tuesday afternoon in capital fund projection for 1965-71 issued by the State Finance Department.

The $567,692,880 capital improvement spending projection will hinge on the fate of a proposed $290 million bond issue in May.

In addition to bond funds, the proposed spending plan includes $85.6 million in federal and local matching funds, $16.6 million in highway and highway safety revenue and $13 million from various rotary funds, and $162.3 million from the $250 million bond issue passed in 1963.

Columbiana County projects over the six-year span include development of Guilford Lake, $250,000; Highlandtown wildlife area, $778,000, and Beaver Creek State Park, $650,000.

The Guilford Lake project includes land acquisition for expansion of camping and picnic areas and dam and spillway maintenance. It calls for a $10,000 appropriation in the 1965-67 biennium, $200,000 in 1967-69 and $40,000 in 1969-71.

The Highlandtown wildlife project proposes construction of 25 cabins, construction of access roads, picnic areas, camping facilities, two boat launch areas, a swimming beach, sewage treatment facilities and horse and foot trails.

The plan calls for spending $130,000 in the next two years, $248,000 in 1967-69 and $400,000 in 1969-71.

The Beaver Creek project envisions $650,000 in the next two years for acquisition of 2,000 acres and development of camping areas, stables and riding trails.

Judge Paul Dies

WHEELING — Federal Judge Charles F. Paul Jr. died unexpectedly today of a heart attack in a Wheeling Hospital after being stricken at home. He was 62. A Republican, Paul was nominated as judge of the U.S. District Court for Northern West Virginia in 1960 by former President Eisenhower.

Diet For Senior Citizen Needs Bolstering

A senior citizen, age 67, who has reached a plateau in her reducing program, asks for help in losing another 50 pounds. She writes:

"Since I was 15, I have been a bit of a white back. I have reduced close to 60 pounds, from 235 to 175. I feel fine, but what troubles me is that I am now at a standstill, and have been for two months.

"I want to lose another 50 pounds. If possible before summer comes. My doctor is proud of my progress. I had extremely high blood pressure and was in the hospital for 11 days a year ago. I learned my lesson. I'm hardly bothered at all with my former ailments, whereas before I reduced I was handicapped in many ways. I feel so well that this past month I haven't been back to my doctor.

"I lost the diet slip you sent me. My present diet consists of buttermilk, applesauce, fruit-flavored gelatin with bananas added, also cheese and toast. I love to have a small can of fruit salad. Please help me to resume losing.

Suggestions for diet changes are coming right up, but do talk them over with your own doctor and let him continue to help you. Under his care you have made splendid progress.

The diet pattern outlined in the booklet is adequate in essential nutrients, and it is too restricted in variety. You need more protein.

A helpful booklet, "Food Guide for Older Folks," by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives excellent guidelines. To obtain it, send 10 cents (not stamps) to U.S. Printing Office, Washington, D.C.

As the booklet says, "all life long you need food that contains protein and minerals—materials required for upkeep of body tissue and bone. Some repair work goes on continually, but if the right materials from food are skimpy, repair work may be shoddy."

THE BOOKLET specifically warns against having a too narrow diet. This daily food guide is given: One pint of milk, skim milk or buttermilk; two servings of the following protein foods: meat, poultry, fish, eggs, dry beans, peas and nuts. Use at least one serving of meat, fish or poultry every day to furnish high quality protein, plus iron, and the B-vitamins. Have four eggs a week.

Include at least four servings of vegetables and fruits daily. Grain products are needed. When made from whole grain fruit-flavored gelatin with bananas added, also cheese and toast. I love to have a small can of fruit salad. Please help me to resume losing.

When calories are curtailed, all kinds of fats and sweets must be lessened. Do not skimp on vegetables, lean meats, fresh fruits, non-fat milk and eggs, for you need as much as ever of these protective foods.

Recommendations for diet changes are coming right up, but do talk them over with your own doctor and let him continue to help you. Under his care you have made splendid progress.

By DR. GARRY MYERS

George Washington Wrote For Posterity

Impartialities — "To please everybody is impossible; were I to undertake it, I should probably please nobody." Character — "C h a r a c t e r is a habit and habits are not easily taken up or suddenly laid aside." Promise — "I never wish to promise more than I have a moral certainty to perform." Dr. Garry Myers — "I do not recollect that in the course of my life I ever forgot my word, or broke a promise made to anyone."

Perseverance — "To persevere in one's duty and be silent is the best answer to calumny."

Misspent hours — "Every year misspent is lost forever, and future years cannot compensate for lost days at this period of your life. This reflection must show the necessity of unremitting application to your studies."

Golden Rule — "It is a maxim with me not to ask what under similar circumstances, I would not want to be asked to do."

True friendship — "True friendship is a plant of slow growth."

Love of country — "The love of my country will be the ruling influence of my conduct."

Preparedness — "To be prepared for war is one of the most effective means of preserving peace."

WAR A plague to mankind — "As the complexion of European politics seems now . . . my first wish is to see this plague of the earth, and the sons and daughters of this world employed in more pleasing and innocent amusements, than in preparing implements and exerting them for the destruction of mankind."

When Washington was made General of the American Army: "There is something charming to me in the conduct of Washington. A gentleman of one of the first fortunes upon the continent, leaving his delicious retirement, his family and friends, sacrificing his ease, and hazarding all in the cause of his country! His views are noble and disinterested. He declared, when he accepted the mighty trust, that he would lay before us an exact account of his expenses, and not accept a shilling for pay."

FOLLOWING Washington's death, in 1799: "I have seen him in the days of adversity, in some of the scenes of his deepest distress and most trying perplexities; I have also attended him in his highest elevation and most prosperous fealty; with uniform admiration of his wisdom, moderation, and constancy. . . . Malice could never blast this honour, and envy made him a singular exception to her universal rule."

Company — "The Company, in which you will improve most, will be least expensive to you."

Let your heart feel — "Let your heart feel for the afflictions and distresses of every one."

Love of country — "The love of my country will be the ruling influence of my conduct."

Preparedness — "To be prepared for war is one of the most effective means of preserving peace."

Syria Orders U.S. Aide To Quit Country

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The Syrian government has ordered the second secretary of the U.S. Embassy, Walter S. Snowdon, out of the country. The newspaper Al Ba'ath, spokesman of the ruling Ba'ath Socialist party, accused him of heading a spy ring.

The American Embassy said the Syrian Foreign Ministry demanded Snowdon's recall Tuesday but gave no reason. The embassy said Snowdon, 46, his wife and two children were preparing to leave the country. Al Ba'ath charged that Snowdon headed a ring that collected secret information on the Syrian army. It claimed that all other members of the ring had been arrested and had made full confessions.

There was no direct comment from the Syrian government. Snowdon, a native of New Jersey, has been in Damascus since September 1962. He was a political officer at the embassy.

Bob Shuttleworth, Fred Bradbury, Hugh Bell and Jack Richardson each drove both ends of daily doubles at Yonkers, N.Y., Raceway last year.

Work Mishap Injure 3 Men

Three men injured in work mishaps were among nine area residents treated at City Hospital Tuesday and today.

James Daniel Chevrant, 40, of Alba Ave., Chester, employee of the T. K. Roofing Co., suffered injuries to the right forearm when caught in a rollwinder.

John Walter Emery, 25, of 618 Blackmore St. suffered bruises of the foot on which a table leg fell at the J. C. Penney Co.

Raymond Roe, 34, of 823 Green Ln., employee of Loblaw's

Market, was treated after ammonia splashed into his eye.

Vic Bosco, 30, of 849 Midland Ave., Midland, was treated this morning for an eye irritation after a particle blew into his eye.

Arthur Moore, 36, of Westfield suffered abrasions of the tip of a finger against a tree.

Lewis Call, 16, son of Lewis Call of Maine Blvd. received a fractured wrist playing ball.

Almeda Potts, 417 College St., suffered a fractured right ankle in a fall on E. 5th St.

Freddie Flara, son of John Flara of Chester R. D. 1, was treated for a neck muscle injury suffered while reaching.

Melinda Pillar, 5, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. John Pillar of TV Tower Rd., Industry, suffered abrasions of the face and a cut of the scalp when she fell from the family car as it was being backed from the driveway at home.

Kent Cooper Leaves Estate Of $100,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Kent Cooper, retired general manager of The Associated Press, left an estate of more than $100,000 when he died at West Palm Beach, Fla., on Jan. 31 at the age of 84, according to his will filed for probate.

Crews To Install New Gas Line For City Hall

Crews are continuing work today on installation of a new 2-inch gas line to serve City Hall, replacing a 3-inch line that was laid when the building was erected over 30 years ago.

To save on excavation and other costs, the 2-inch line will be installed inside the old pipe.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said. Breaks were discovered in the original line, which dates back to 1934.

One-way traffic is in effect on W. 6th St. during the project, as the excavation has blocked the south side of the street in front of City Hall.

Columbus Man Given Place On Ohio PUC

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An assistant attorney general with eight years state service, two of them in the Ohio Public Utilities Commission, has been nominated by Gov. James A. Rhodes as the newest member of the commission.

Jay Flowers, 43, of Columbus, was appointed Tuesday to a six-year term expiring Jan. 31, 1971. The job pays $16,000 annually. He succeeds J. Warren Bettis who resigned to become Columbiana County prosecutor.

400 Major U.S. Bases Still In Use Overseas

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States still maintains more than 400 major military bases overseas. Many are likely to be closed or reduced to standby status in the years ahead.

The advent of bigger transport planes, floating depots and faster sealoft may permit eventual reduction of heavy garrisons abroad, particularly in Europe where about 300,000 American servicemen are stationed.

The acquisition of longer-clear propulsion to surface warships would be another factor cutting down reliance on overseas bases.

Aside from these considerations, there is the ever-present pressure on the Defense Department to economize and to stem the outflow of gold which results from spending U.S. dollars abroad.

According to Defense Department officials, about 50 or 55 major U.S. bases have been closed overseas in the past 10 years. The total of such bases now stands at 428.

There also are about 2,900 minor installations used by this country's armed forces on foreign soil — small radar stations, hospitals, supply points and the like. Pentagon authorities said they had no figures on how many such minor bases had been closed in the past decade.

The trend toward retrenchment back to the United States has been evident for some time, chiefly in the evacuation of forward bases used by obsolescent B47 medium jet nuclear bombers.

The last 225 B47s of a force that at one time totaled more than 1,200 will be retired in the coming fiscal year. Most already have been withdrawn from Britain and Spain.

An Air Force spokesman said in London earlier this week that the Strategic Air Command will end its operations in Britain on April 1, winding up a 14-year chapter.

The Air Force now has more than 850 intercontinental ballistic missiles aimed at Communist targets from the continental United States. The Navy has more than 300 Polaris missiles ready in submarines patrolling submerged within range of Red China and the Soviet Union.

Cole Memorial Set; Services Thursday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Nat King Cole memorial will be erected in the new multimillion-dollar Los Angeles Music Center that he helped found.

Cole, whose voice sold more than 50 million records, was to have sung at the center during its dedicatory week Dec. 11.

He died of lung cancer Monday in a hospital in nearby Santa Monica. He was 45.

Private funeral services are scheduled Thursday in St. James Episcopal Church, with entombment, also private, in Forest Lawn Memorial Park in suburban Glendale.

Shell Founder Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — J. C. Van Eck, 84, founder of Shell Oil Co., died Tuesday in Santa Barbara, Calif. Van Eck, born in Holland, worked as a banker before joining the Royal Dutch Shell group of companies. He came to the United States in 1911 and a year later in Seattle, Wash., he started the American Gasoline Co., forerunner of the present Shell Oil Co. He later headed the Shell organization in the United States and in 1936 became managing director of the Royal Dutch Shell group from which he retired in 1947.

In Ohio House Tonight

Overflow Crowd Due For Debate On School Buses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An overflow crowd is expected to jam the legislative hearing room tonight as the Ohio House Education Committee begins deliberations on the controversial school bus bill.

The largest room available to committee members seats an estimated 200. They said a continuing heavy flow of mail on the issue indicated a turnout far larger.

Rep. B. A. Broughton, R-Geauga, heads the committee which will hear testimony on the measure requiring school boards to provide bus transportation for parochial and private school students.

Members of both houses have been deluged with letters from constituents with most of them, two to one or more, urging defeat of the compulsory measure.

Another bill permitting but not requiring school boards to provide such service is pending in the House, but has not been called up for a hearing.

Highlighting brief floor sessions in both chambers Tuesday was a proposed constitutional amendment to permit horse race sweepstakes.

Rep. Julius Petrash, D-Cuyahoga, sponsored the proposal which he said would provide $40 million a year for education. He said his estimate was based on the New Hampshire sweepstakes which produce some $12 million a year for schools in that state.

Another Cleveland Democrat, Rep. Joseph J. Horvath, offered a bill requiring a minimum lapse of 120 days between conviction of a killer and his execution.

Horvath said the four-month period would permit time for a new trial motion in the event new evidence was uncovered.

The chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court would be permitted to fill vacant municipal judgeships, with the appointee to serve until the next election, under a measure introduced by Rep. Carlton Davidson, R-Lawrence.

In the upper chamber, eight bills were introduced including one by Sen. Tennyson Guyer, R-Findlay, to require the use of reflectorized auto license plates.

Sens. David T. Matia, Anthony F. Novak, and Ray T. Miller Jr., all D-Cuyahoga, introduced a bill permitting sale of liquor by the drink between 1 p.m. and midnight on Sunday under the local option plan. An earlier Senate bill would permit such sales without a local vote.

Negley PTO To Meet

NEGLEY — Miss June White, speech therapist for East Palestine schools, will speak at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization tonight at 7:30 at the school.

17 To Attend Road Session

The East Liverpool area will send 17 representatives to a meeting of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Association Thursday night at the Mural Room Restaurant in Youngstown to hear an address by State Highway Director P. E. Masheter.

The delegation will include: Robert E. Boyce, Mike Turk, C. W. Ashbaugh, William E. Williams, William B. Cooper, William D. Ogilvie, Jud English, Atty. Francis H. Lang, Commissioner James Boyd, Phil Miragala.

Paul Brown, George S. Bloomgren, Mayor Merrill D. Hall, Arthur Doak, Gordon E. Starkey, E. R. Chandler and Robert F. Popp.

Masheter's address will follow a 6:45 dinner of the association, which is comprised of civic leaders and public officials in Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula Counties.

He is expected to discuss future plans for construction of the four-lane limited access highway, which eventually will connect Ohio River docks at East Liverpool with the Lake Erie port at Ashtabula.

The local delegation, representing both the Chamber of Commerce and the highway association, will be particularly interested in possible announcement of the date for opening bids on the next segment of the lake-river road, extending northward from Substation and Route 170.

Tom Mikkola, Copper Cliff, Ont., sophomore on Michigan State's hockey team, once scored five goals in a high school game.

'Nathan Hale' Presentation

160 See Scout Award Ceremony

The Boy Scout "Nathan Hale" award was presented to Everett Watson at a Court of Honor for Boy Scout Troop 12 Monday night at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. He is shown here with his mother, Mrs. Hazel Myers, and Eugene Hall, chairman of the Cherokee District. Some 160 attended.

The award was presented by Hall as part of a dinner marking the 55th anniversary of scouting.

Other rank awards included

Kenneth Cochran, tenderfoot; Lee Lucas and David Brown, second class; James Jacobs, Michael Jones and Michael Parkes, Star, and George Schmidt and Everett Watson, Life Scout.

Merit badge recipients were Bruce Croft, John Hales, Watson, Schmidt, Mark Casto and Jacobs.

The Rev. Eugene Toot, copastor, was master of ceremonies. Harry Brokaw, assistant patrol leader, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Badges were distributed by Bernard Casto, Alan Sims and Dale Jones, scout aides.

A film, "Invitation to Ohio," was screened by Larry LeMasters of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. office at Steubenville.

A buffet dinner was served by scout mothers, headed by Mrs. R. Richard Jones.

On the Court of Honor were Hall, Tom Snow, Donald Skidmore, Colin Brown, Milton Reese, Robert Kidd, Dale Thornton and Casto.

Crossing Hit As 'Hazard'

A complaint by Parent-Teacher Association officers and parents about a railroad crossing near the Chester Primary School was taken under study by Chester Council at a meeting Tuesday night.

The PTA of the school and Mrs. Charles Taylor of Florida Ave. submitted letters to Council, pointing out the hazard of children using the crossing at 6th St.

It was explained the Pennsylvania Railroad had previously agreed to limit train traffic at the crossing between 8 a. m. and 3 p. m. and if any trains had to use the track, a crewman was to dismount and stand by while the crossing was in use.

The letters said trains have traveled the tracks recently without crewmen dismounting, and asked Council to act in increasing the safety precautions at the site.

Council authorized a letter to the railroad, asking a safety engineer to attend the next meeting March 2 for a review of the crossing situation. Copies of the two letters are to be included.

Copies of all three letters will be sent to the Hancock County Board of Education.

Councilman Walter McSwegin, chairman of the building committee, said no more young people's basketball games will be permitted in the City Hall auditorium without adult supervision.

His committee recently studied reported damage to the auditorium area. McSwegin said he is obtaining estimates on repairs to plaster.

Council authorized the ordinance committee to study a possible restriction on parking time on 5th St. as requested by George Manolakis, drugstore operator, who is planning a new store along 5th St.

Manolakis recently offered to exchange part of his property for a section of sidewalk of the city in order to provide parking, but is now seeking a limit on the time permitted for parking in the spaces.

The sewer committee took under study a need for a sewer connection improvement at Alaska Ave. and 3rd St. as reported by Councilman Richard Johnston.

Council removed Joe Bryan, former special officer, from the city's list of available officers because he has moved from the city.

Bills totaling $1,817 were paid. Clerk - Treasurer Roy Cashdollar reported receipts of $5,136.

100 Attend Scout Dinner, Awards Event At Chester

Awards were presented at the annual Blue and Gold dinner of Chester Cub Scout Pack 30 attended by 100 Monday night at the First Methodist Church.

Robert Reed, cubmaster, presented awards to Randy Cornell, Craig Turner, Bobby Reed, Michael Gibbs, Jimmy Collins, Michael Bryan, Darrell Wright, Jimmy Fox, Jimmy Smith, Steve Rockwell, Steve DeLong and Hanz Dietz.

Robert Reed received a seven-year pin, and Bill Moon a five-year pin. A special plaque was presented to Charles Michaels, treasurer.

Dan Jones of New Cumberland spoke on scout history and goals. Guests included the Rev. and Mrs. Forrest Campbell.

Debbie Gregory won a game prize. Bill Moon and Harriett Moon led singing, and Janet Smith read a poem.

The committee will meet March 8.

Legislation Ordered

Wellsville Street Project Spurred

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night ordered legislation opening the way for the Ohio Highway Department to resurface Clark Ave. from 17th St. to where it connects with the four-lane highway at the lower end of town.

Council also received a request from the police department for salary increases and adopted legislation authorizing overtime pay for salaried employees of three city departments.

MAYOR WILLIAM Daugherty reported he had received notification from the Highway Department that the resurfacing of Clark Ave. is included in the summer work plan.

Council and the administration had requested the work.

The mayor said he received the notification last week and immediately made an appointment with Columbiana County commissioners. The commissioners met Monday at Lisbon and agreed to pay half of the city's share of the project, the mayor said. He was accompanied to Lisbon by Councilman Dwight MacLean, street and light chairman.

THE CITY and county each will pay $2,100 as a share of the 0.82-mile section. Clark Ave. is approximately 34 feet wide and is brick. Residents have complained for years of the rough surface and the street becomes slick when wet. The state will apply 2 1/4-inches of blacktop.

The city's share, to be taken from the street fund, will be sent to the commissioners, who will handle the arrangements with the state officials. Council directed a letter to the Ohio Valley Gas Co. asking any work to be done along the street be completed before the resurfacing.

Wells Ave. at the upper end of town was resurfaced two years ago in a similar program.

Chief John Hephner requested in a letter an overall pay increase for members of his department. He asked the chief's salary be raised from $390 to $500 a month, the captain's pay from $370 to $450 and the patrolmen from $357 to $425.

THE CHIEF said the "lowest paid patrolman in the county makes more than he does." The request was turned over to the finance committee.

Councilman Paul Todd, finance chairman, reminded councilmen of the finance meeting scheduled Thursday night at 7:30 to continue work on the 1965 appropriation, which will be acted on in March.

Legislation was approved to provide $2.50 an hour overtime pay for members of the police, fire and filtration departments.

It will be retroactive to Jan. 1. The legislation provides the overtime be paid any fireman or policeman working over 40 hours a week and any filtration plant employee working more than eight hours in a given day.

The legislation stipulates the overtime will be paid only as long as funds are available. An "overtime fund" will be set up in the appropriation for each department.

COUNCIL HAD delayed action on the legislation previously to consider adding the sewage plant operator to the list. Separate legislation will be ordered later for this as it will be necessary to change the working hours of the operator.

Mayor Daugherty reported on attending a meeting at Lisbon on a proposed airport for Columbiana County and suggested the city recommend one or two locations near Wellsville. He also reported on attending a low-cost housing workshop at Columbus. He was accompanied by Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare and James Salsgiver, a member of the City Planning Commission. He said he will make recommendations soon.

Charles Stewart of Wells Ave., former member of Council and former Council clerk and city treasurer, suggested from the audience the city re-invest money from the cemetery trust fund to obtain the interest. He also suggested Council give consideration to the number of homes and persons that will be displaced when the projected relocation of Route 7 through the city becomes a reality. Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, said approximately 150 homes will be lost.

MRS. RAHTER also indicated that Angelo Georgetti of the Georgetown River - Rail Terminal has purchased land at Steubenville and plans to move his operations.

Georgetti leases city land which he wanted to purchase. No agreement has ever been reached by Council on the matter. At the last meeting, the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce asked further consideration be given the request. A petition also was presented Council asking the land be sold to Georgetti.

Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi said two other meetings had been scheduled with Georgetti, but he could not attend one and the other was canceled.

Councilman Walter Henthorne said he had received complaints of persons dismantling old cars in their yards, causing an eyesore. A discussion followed on ways of governing the problem, along with that of junk yards.

HENTHORNE said several old cars were parked on 2nd St. The Chief Robert Lewis spoke from the audience and said the legislation calls for various phases of the control by the fire department, police department and Board of Health. He said there has been a "lack of co-ordination" by the departments in the control.

The Rev. Arden Beck of the First Methodist Church gave the opening prayer.

Salesman, 17, Held Following Stabbing
CLEVELAND (AP) — A 17-year-old book salesman was arrested early today in connection with the stabbing of an attractive pregnant housewife in her home Tuesday night. He was not charged.

Detectives picked up the Garfield Heights youth at an East Side hotel. He was part of a three-man encyclopedia sales crew working in Elyria. The other two salesmen were arrested earlier.

Garfield Heights police said they would question the youth, since the killer of 16-year-old Beverly Jarosz is still at large.

She was stabbed more than 40 times and strangled in her Garfield Heights home Dec. 28.

The Elyria victim, Mrs. Donald E. Leedy, was reported in fair condition at Elyria Memorial Hospital with a four-inch-deep stomach wound.

Hospital authorities said the unborn child of Mrs. Leedy, five months pregnant, was in no immediate danger.

Former outfielder Hank Sawyer scouts for the San Francisco Giants.

Manager Hank Bauer of the Baltimore Orioles has a contract that extends through 1966.

Job Or Jobless?

Here's How Government Decides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bob Brown has a job with the Nuts & Bolts Co. but didn't work last week because of a strike at the plant. Question: Is he employed or unemployed?

He's employed, according to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

But suppose, while on strike, Brown goes over to the Screw & Washer Factory to apply for a job there?

In that case, he will show up on the government's jobless rolls along with some four million other Americans.

The names of Bob Brown, the Nuts & Bolts Co. and the Screw & Washer Factory are mythical of course, but the bureau uses them to illustrate how it arrives at one of the nation's most important economic yardsticks every month.

During one week in every month, some 35,000 families in a carefully chosen cross-section are interviewed by a special group of Census Bureau workers and the results multiplied to get the national unemployment rate.

But it's not so simple as just knocking on the door and asking who in the family is employed or out of work.

The interviewer does not make the decision. It's all done by electronic computer back at the Census Bureau in Washington.

The computer is programmed to decide who is listed as employed, unemployed or not in the labor force.

People with regular jobs who were absent from work during the survey week because of illness, bad weather, strikes or various personal reasons are listed as employed.

Except, as in Bob Brown's case, a striker who goes looking for another job is counted as unemployed. If he simply went fishing and waited for the strike to end, he would be counted as employed.

Generally, anyone without a job who looks for work is listed on the jobless rolls.

But then there's the case of a coal miner thrown out of work when the mine was closed permanently.

He gives up looking for work as futile. Even so, the bureau lists him as unemployed even though he didn't actively seek a job during the survey week.

What about Pete, 15, who has no paying job, but puts in about 20 hours a week on chores around his father's farm? He is considered employed as an unpaid family worker.

So is Betty Green, who helps out in her husband's grocery store several days a week.

The bureau counts all persons over 14 years of age who are not in school, military service or in an institution.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Will you tell me why a widow or a divorcee is considered a sure thing by every male I've had the poor luck to meet these last two years?

I'm a 32-year-old divorcee who holds a responsible position. I dress in good taste, my necklines don't plunge and I can talk intelligently about contemporary affairs, books, art and music.

I'm tired of going out with men who think you owe them your life just because they buy you a dinner. I've been called old-fashioned, prudish, archaic, mid-victorian, sadistic and masochistic just because I'm not interested in extramarital sex.

I've heard every line imaginable, but the one last night was unique. What do you think of a man who wants to take the sadness out of your eyes? Isn't that incredible? Or am I nuts — PLAIN DISGUSTED.

Dear P.D.: A man who talks about taking the sadness out of your eyes is probably interested in putting a little gladness into his own.

Don't lower your standards, Doll, but redouble your efforts. There are still plenty of eligible men around who don't regard every woman they see as their Target for Tonight.

Enroll in an adult education class at the university. Join a great books discussion group, be a volunteer for the political party of your choice. The Red Cross needs Gray Ladies. This list is endless. Get going.

Includes Self Out

Dear Ann: My husband comes from one of those families whose motto is, "All for one and one for all." This sounds admirable but it has caused me nothing but heartache.

In the 18 years we've been married my husband has spent at least half of his spare time helping his brothers and sisters build and repair their homes. In all fairness I should tell you, Ann, that eight years ago when we built our home his relatives pitched in and helped. We could not have afforded this lovely home otherwise.

Last year my sister-in-law carelessly set their home on fire with a cigarette. Now my husband spends all his spare time rebuilding with the rest of the family. He usually takes our daughter along to play with her cousins. I sit home alone because my sister-in-law is a bore.

I've considered telling my husband that since he enjoys his family so much he should spend all his time with them. Yes or no? — CONTEMPLATIVE

Dear Con: No, I hate to trot out that tired slogan but it's tailor-made — "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

After 18 years your husband is not going to change his attitude toward his family, so you'd better change yours.

Make up your mind you're going to find something to admire in that tribe and go with him when he goes. Sitting at home, building resentment against him and his family will bring you nothing but a shattered marriage and infinitely greater unhappiness.

Confidentially

TO DUMBEST BELL WHO ever rang; you are not dumb, you are uninformed. Your request for information suggests you want to learn and do better. Discuss this with your family physician. You will not shock him. He has heard everything. (You didn't shock me either. So have I.)

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Carnival Theme Discussed For PTA At Calcutta

"The Spring Fling" has been designated as the name for the carnival to be held April 24 by the Calcutta Parent-Teacher Association, James Moore, chairman, reported at the meeting Monday night at the school.

The sale of tickets was started today by students. Clair Unrue, president, announced membership has reached 320. Reports were given by Mrs. Beulah Holden, secretary, and Mrs. Carol Hoppel, treasurer.

Carl Mansfield, superintendent of the Community Rescue Mission, led devotions.

A program of plays were presented by third grade students under the direction of the teachers, Mrs. Lucille Smith, Mrs. Edwina Hides and Mrs. Donna McVay. Mrs. Sally Cloran was program chairman.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. McVay's room.

Cumberland's Postal Facility About Ready

NEW CUMBERLAND — Earl Bennett, postmaster, said the new post office being constructed on Ridge Ave. is nearly ready for use with the tentative opening date March 7.

A shipment of furniture is awaited, and installation of individual post office boxes and cabinets for the service counter is being completed.

Hancock Group Discusses Camp

The Hancock County Conservation Commission Monday night at the New Cumberland office discussed plans for the annual youth conservation camp.

It will be held at Tomlinson Run State Park June 11-12. "West Virginia Hills" was selected as the project theme.

Arthur Ryan of Weirton was named camp chairman. Ryan is a graduate of West Virginia University and for a time was forester for the State Conservation Commission. He is presently employed by the Weirton Steel Co.

Mrs. Richard Barnhart represented the Chester Women's Club at the meeting. Mrs. James Arehart of Pughtown, the 4-H Leaders Council, and Mrs. JoAnn Six and Mrs. Evelyn Six the Pleasantview Homemakers Club.

Churches Seen Lax In Educational Field

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—The first Negro moderator of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S., Dr. Elder G. Hawkins of the Bronx, N.Y., says church have fallen down on the job in the area of education. Dr. Elder addressed an inter-faith banquet of about 300 persons here Tuesday night.

"We can point with pride in this country to many accomplishments of the church in the field of civil rights but in one area, notably education, we have neglected our duties, and must accept the responsibility," he declared. He urged all faiths "to rededicate themselves in the war against intolerance, ignorance and hate."

The federal government owns an estimated 770 million acres of land.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When putting boxes away in the attic or basement, number each box with a crayon. Then number an index card and list and label what each box contains.

Tape the cards on the back of the door to the attic or storage room. Saves you time when you go to look for some particular thing in storage.

JOANNE S. McCARRY.

DEAR HELOISE: For grated cheese with a sticky mess on the grater... put the piece of cheese in your freezer for 30 or 40 minutes. It then grates firmly—no fuss, and much quicker.

DEAR HELOISE: I always tell my house "goodnight." When all are tucked away, I pick up papers, books and anything not in place.

Next day I find I have that much less to do, and that's a big help in my busy day.

D. DUPLANTIS.

Besides, it's a much better start for the day, isn't it? No cluttered living room staring you in the face the first thing in the morning.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER:

DEAR HELOISE: After huffing over girdles for years, I've figured an easier way to put one on.

Now, I put on my stockings first... this eliminates that armorplated bending to meet the toes. Then I put on the girdle, pulling it up just far enough to fasten the garters to the stockings. Then the girdle can be pulled on up around the hips, hooked, and zipped.

ROUND, FIRM AND FULLY PACKED.

This may be a letter of laughter, but until you try it you'll never know how smoothly a girdle will slide.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm a 14-year-old teen-ager so I have stayed all night at slumber parties.

To make sure I have the right comb and brush at a slumber party or at camp, I use finger-nail polish to put my initials in small letters on the top of my comb and brush.

MARTI.

DEAR HELOISE: As a Registered Nurse who worked the night shift before my baby was born, I learned to use a flashlight when checking on my patients.

Now, I keep one on the baby's dresser, and when I check in on her, I use the flashlight instead of turning on the lamp and taking a chance of awaking her.

B.J.W.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a simple, inexpensive cure for the rusty bottoms of shaving cream cans:

Apply one-inch waterproof, adhesive bandage around the base of the can, putting one-half inch above, and the other half folded under the can.

To make a smooth edge, clip the part to be folded under in several places to eliminate bulges.

Being avid do-it-yourself fixers, we find your column a must in our household.

ARTHUR RIVERS, MD.

Thank you, Doctor.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have trouble with your trading stamps sticking together in an envelope or box, shake a little talcum powder into the envelope and give it a shake.

The powder will keep the stamps dry and they won't stick.

Reuther Gets Sharp 'No' In Merger Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President James B. Carey of the International Union of Electrical Workers has sharply rejected an invitation from Walter Reuther to merge with the United Auto Workers of America.

Informants said Carey appeared most upset about the manner in which Reuther first broached the merger proposal at the White House.

Carey sent a letter to Reuther saying he was "surprised and dismayed" that Reuther should have voiced his offer last week "from the steps of the White House." Reuther talked with White House newsmen after calling on President Johnson on Feb. 9.

Both unions are affiliated with the AFL-CIO. Reuther's proposal for the first major union merger in modern labor history had stirred considerable surprise in the entire labor movement.

Reuther had mentioned in a letter to Carey and other IUE officials the election dispute between Carey and Paul Jennings of Newark, N.J., for the presidency of the IUE and said a merger would solve internal dissension in Carey's union.

It was learned that Carey at a closed meeting of the IUE executive board Tuesday won approval to send a sharply worded letter of rejection to Reuther.

The letter reportedly said Carey would not consider or enter into any negotiations with Reuther's big UAW.

The IUE has about 280,000 members and the UAW more than 1 million.

Mahoning Ruling Due In Fatal Car Plunge

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mahoning County Coroner Dr. David A. Belinky is to rule on the death of a 27-year-old Youngstown man who was found in the back seat of his car in 30 feet of water at the bottom of McKelvey Lake.

Scuba divers recovered the body of Donald G. Oshelski Tuesday after the auto went through a guard rail on the old section of Jacobs Road Monday and plunged through the ice into the lake. Friends told police Oshelski had a condition that made him blackout at times.

Wellsville PTA Hears Scout Aide

Bennett Taylor, Columbiana County Boy Scout Council executive, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Garfield Parent-Teacher Association Monday night in the Wellsville School.

Raymond Rolley, clerk of the Board of Education, explained school policies and Mrs. Betty Salsberry, president, presided.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Vi Osborne, Mrs. Jean Reed and Mrs. Sue Smith was appointed. It was reported that $204 was collected in the Mothers' March of Dimes Jan. 25. Mrs. Ruth Frischkorn's fourth grade won the attendance banner. The Lord's Prayer was given in unison.

Mrs. Betty Figley and Mrs. Marge Kinzel served refreshments. Fourth grade homeroom mothers held a candy sale.

Pupils Entertain For No. 16 PTA

A Founder's Day program presented by sixth grade pupils marked the meeting of the No. 16 Parent Teacher Association Monday in the Southern Local School near Wellsville.

It was given under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Edna Spring, and her class was awarded the attendance banner. The Rev. James McCollam, pastor of the Oak Ridge and Yellow Creek United Presbyterian churches, led worship.

Mrs. Maysel Beck's fourth and fifth grade homeroom mothers served refreshments. William Holden of WOHI will conduct devotions and serve as master of ceremonies for a talent program by the pupils at the meeting March 1.

Crash Near Marietta Fatal To Woman, 23

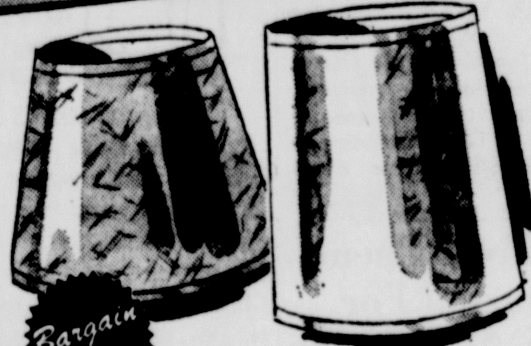

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — A car-truck crash has killed a 23-year-old Marietta woman, Ann Richardson. The former Columbus teacher was killed Tuesday when her car collided with an auto transport truck about seven miles east of here on U.S. 50.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the truck driver, Lehman Jackson, of Greenwood, W. Va., received only minor injuries.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY
Elke Gives TV A Break

The reason we haven't seen the blonde and kittenish Elke Sommer on TV until tonight's bow with Danny Kay's show is chiefly economic.

"I believe it's better that people pay to see me," says Elke, whose success in the movies, "Shot in the Dark" and "The Prize," seems to indicate people will pay to see her—especially male people. Not long ago Elke married Joe Hyams, a former member of the Hollywood press corps who now writes books about Hollywood stars.

HIS MARRIAGE to Elke indirectly has added luster to the image of all movie and TV scribes, but the cost to Joe and Elke was considerable.

"Marrying Joe has cost me money, because I had to give up my Swiss residence," says the German-born actress, "and now I must pay taxes here."

Before Joe counts up his take-home pay from the book business he must shell out 1,000 claims a month to his ex-wife. This could be another reason why Elke wants people to pay to see her. Still, she says Joe refuses to use any of her movie earnings, so maybe the book racket is better than most of us knew.

ELKE SAYS her romance with Joe began while he was interviewing her for a Saturday Evening Post profile. His questions the first few times were sarcastic and harsh, reports Elke, but after the third day she finally said something which caused Joe to reply, "Miss Sommer, that's the first human thing you've said so far."

"Some time later he told me I was the most feminine actress he'd met, and then even later he said I was the most beautiful. And now we're married," Elke added, just in case I hadn't followed this chronology too closely.

The first sentence in Joe's article on Elke reported, "She sleeps in the nude with a stuffed animal and sucks her left thumb." It's safe to assume that the delectable Elke no longer does any such thing.

DESPITE OTHER articles in which Joe stated that marrying an actress was about the worst thing a man could do, Elke says he is a nice man and a "real charmer."

A slight strain was put on their still-green marriage ties when Playboy Magazine ran a series of pictures from some European movies Elke had made before being interviewed by Joe.

"He was mad, but also nicer about it than I would have been. I think," says Elke, who was going to sue the magazine, but

9. KDKA, WSTV, Dick Van Dyke: "The Case Of The Pillows." Ed Begley appears as a judge when Rob Petrie insists on defending himself in a civil suit.

9. WJAC, WTRF, WHIC, Movie: "Submarine Command," with William Holden, Nancy Olson, William Bendix and Don Taylor. The executive officer of an American submarine is tormented by guilt feelings over an emergency decision he made involving the deaths of two men at the close of World War II.

11:15. WTAE, Movie: "In Old California," starring John Wayne and Patsy Kelly.

Joe talked her out of that. Apparently this is the only time he's interfered with her career. "When I ask him for advice, he says, 'Oh no, I want our marriage to last, and it won't if I start meddling in your career,'" quotes Elke. "But every time he writes something he wants me to read it and tell him what I think."

ELKE DOESN'T believe in emancipation for women, so dutifully reads Joe's manuscripts.

It isn't likely we'll see her on TV again very soon (unless they put meters on the sets), although she has big praise for Danny Kaye.

"I think he is even more talented than Peter Sellers," says Elke.

Mahoning Pollution Control Defended During Hearings

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—People along the Mahoning River should be praised rather than criticized for their efforts at water pollution control, the Ohio health director said Tuesday.

Dr. Emmett W. Arnold, who also is chairman of the Ohio Pollution Control Board, said criticism of water pollution efforts by a government official was an "affront" to municipalities and industries along the river.

Murray Stein, chief enforcement officer in the water pollution control program of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Tuesday blamed metal-processing industries and many municipalities along the river for polluting the water.

Dr. Arnold said the Mahoning River Valley pollution control program might serve as a model for other parts of the county with seriously polluted rivers.

More persons were to testify today in the closing day of a two-day conference called by the Welfare Department, which had checked conditions of the Mahoning River in Youngstown and the Beaver and Shenango rivers above Pittsburgh.

Stein said the conference here is similar to ones held in other states and was called as a result of a study engineers and scientists make periodically of streams and rivers.

Most witnesses defended Mahoning Valley pollution control efforts. One critic, however, was Seth Myers of Sharon, Pa., who

Two Things You Enjoy Every Day

An Exciting Newspaper!
Dependable Delivery!

• TAKING this newspaper from the bustling young businessman who serves your street is a two-fold treat!

FIRST, you get full news-and-picture coverage of each day's exciting and important events around town and around the world—as only your newspaper can do it! Also, you enjoy complete news of sports, business, politics, society, fashions, home-making, amusements and your many other interests and activities. Plus the finest newspaper features and latest shopping news!

SECOND, you are served by a carrier whose business is to rush delivery of this newspaper to your home every day—no matter what the weather! If you are not a regular customer of his, he'll be glad to serve you—and you'll be glad you asked him to!

If You're a Newcomer:
Phone today and he will bring your newspaper tomorrow!

OFF THE RECORD

The hides were damaged, but those were the days when cattlemen complained that they had to trade a whole wagon load of hides for a pair of children's shoes. When hides became more valuable, the brands shrank, but tools and techniques have remained about the same.

-Junior Editors Quiz on FIRE

QUESTION: Is fire a kind of matter, like an element?

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask a friend, if burning a stick of wood is chemical change, what is it changing into? If neither of you know the answer, here it is: ashes are produced, also carbon dioxide and water vapor. These two last escape into the air.

'Freedom Is Precious,' Dr. Sam Declares

By JOHN SHEPPARD
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "When you've gone through 10 years of hell, you know how precious your freedom is," says Dr. Sam Sheppard.

These are tension-filled days for Sheppard, 41, and his German-born wife, the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns. She married Sheppard two days after his release July 16 from Ohio Penitentiary where he was serving a life sentence for the bludgeoning slaying of his first wife, Marilyn.

Mrs. Sheppard, 35, a slim, attractive blonde, shares her husband's anxiety and seeks to bolster his hope that he won't return to prison.

A decision on this could come any day now from the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

The Sheppards live quietly in a rented five-room brick row house in suburban Rocky River. Occasionally they go out to dinner and a show, but they avoid night clubs or other public places.

They spend most of their time at home where Sam reads medical journals and compiles lists of new drugs. He has been teaching his bride how to use surgical instruments. Some day, he hopes, she will be his surgical assistant.

The pipe-smoking Sheppard is tense and restless, his 35-year-old spouse said during an exclusive interview Tuesday.

"He's never been so scared in all his life," she said. "How much can one man endure? Sam is strong, but he's only human."

"After this paradise, Sam said the thought of possibly going back to prison would be more than he could stand."

The former osteopath has insisted that a "bushy-haired" intruder beat his pregnant wife to death in their suburban Bay Village home before dawn July 4, 1954. A jury convicted him of second-degree murder, which carries a life sentence and possibility of parole after 10 years.

Appeals involving expenses Ariane estimated at more than $100,000 failed as the years went by. But last July, Sheppard was released on a writ of habeas corpus from U.S. Dist. Judge Carl A. Weinman of Dayton. The judge ruled Sheppard's constitutional rights were violated during the trial — in part by what the judge called unfair newspaper publicity.

The state appealed Judge Weinman's order freeing Sheppard on $10,000 bond. The three-judge federal appellate court heard final arguments last Oct. 9.

If the court upholds Judge Weinman, Sheppard will remain free and the state must decide whether to retry him.

Lee Bailey of Boston, counsel for Sheppard, said he would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, if necessary, to prevent Sheppard's return to prison.

"I think his chances of ever coming back are remote," said Bailey.

About their plans, Ariane said her husband wants to:

—Adopt Iris, her 11-year-old daughter by a previous marriage. The girl is in a boarding school outside Dusseldorf, Germany.

—Visit Culver Military Academy in Indiana where his son, Sam Jr., 17, is a senior looking toward a career in law or medicine.

—Regain his license as an osteopathic surgeon specializing in diseases of the nervous system. He said he has had a dozen job offers from hospitals in Pennsylvania, New York, Arizona and California but wants to work in Ohio.

Ohio's Growers Triple Demand For Workers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The demand by Ohio growers for migrant workers is almost triple that of a year ago, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) reported today.

The big demand, said administrator Willard P. Dudley, is due to the keen competition for American migratory workers since the law permitting Mexican migrants to enter the country expired Dec. 31.

Dudley said Ohio growers already have placed 961 orders for 16,300 workers for the 1965 growing and harvest season.

Last year at this time, Dudley said, his bureau had received only 320 orders for 6,500 migrants.

He estimates Ohio fruit and vegetable farmers will need 20,000 workers on Ohio farms this year.

Dudley said he has informed Gov. James A. Rhodes of the situation. He said he told the governor that recruiting teams from BUC are now in Texas to help fill orders. The teams will move next to Florida, he said.

Dudley said crops where seasonal workers will be needed include tomatoes, sugar beets, pickles, strawberries, cherries, apples and tobacco.

In past seasons, Dudley explained, Ohio growers did not use the Mexican braceros but depended on migratory workers from Texas, Florida and other states.

Now, Dudley added we "are facing great competition from other states which once had relied on the Mexican workers."
